YELLOW JACK REACHES OUT

Claims Six More Victims in Stricken City of New Orleans.

ARE NOW 165 CASES

Nineteen Centers of Infection Have Developed, Traceable to the First One.

PHYSICIANS WORKING HARD

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Six deaths from yellow fever were recorded today up to 6 p. m., making a total to date of 45. The number of new cases reported yesterday and compiled today is 11, making, all told to date, 165 cases. There are now 19 centers of infection.

The organization of forces fighting the spread of the infection and for a campaign of education and practical application of the mosquito extermination plans has been completed. Citizens are being organized in wards. These ward clubs will form precinct clubs and a house-to-house canvass will be made to assure the screening of every cistern and the oiling of every cess pool and water pond.

Yielding to the sentiment of the community, the state board of health on Monday adopted new regulations for the fruit ships, providing they should remain six days at sea between the last port and New Orleans and requiring fumigation at port of departure and fumigation after the discharge of the cargo.

Health Officers to Confer.

In view of the many quarantine complications which have arisen, Dr. Souchen has called a conference for next Sunday of the health officers of Texas, Mississippi and Alabama, to discuss quarantine regulations and devise a system by which travelers can be admitted with certificates of the marine hospital service. Surgeon White, who is in charge of all the government work, will participate. The work of placing the detention camps has been finished and supplies are now being sent to them.

The infection in the original center seems to be dying out, as fewer cases are reported from there, indicating that modern methods have been effective. The work now is to find the new centers and treat them in the same manner. The new centers which are developing are all traceable directly to the original case in the Italian quarter.

The emergency hospital was opened to day and patients were removed to it in a screened ambulance. Dr. John Guiteras, now professor of pathology of the University of Havana, but formerly of the marine hospital service, and who represented that service here during the fever of 1897, has been ordered here by the Cuban government and will arrive tomorrow.

Suspicious Case Far Away.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The officials of the marine hospital service are investigating a reported suspicious case of fever which is said to have developed on the line of the Texas Pacific railroad about 75 miles from New Orleans.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, July 26.—As a result of the delay on the part of the Louisiana authorities in putting on a quarantine against New Orleans, State Health Officer Tabor today placed a quarantine against the whole state of Louisiana.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Health Officer Doty gave out the following statement this afternoon regarding the yellow fever situation:

"There is no danger whatever that an outbreak of yellow fever in the north would be followed by any serious results to the public, principally for the reason that the variety of mosquito which transmit the disease is not found in this section of the country. Besides, the present treatment of an outbreak of this disease is simple and effective if properly carried out."

The total membership is 1,831,046, a net increase of 64,346. Pennsylvania made the largest increase, gaining more than $5,500,000 in assets. New Jersey increased nearly $3,000,000 in assets and Massachusetts more than $2,500,000. The number of separate associations is now 5,265.

CITY'S FINANCES IN BAD MUDDLE

New Castle Investigators Learn More of Former Treasurer's Peculiar Methods.

CHECK BOOK IS STILL MISSING

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, July 26.—The investigating committee of council, which is examining into the $20,000 shortage in the city treasurer's office, completed its work today. Several interesting developments were made. No report will be made to councils for several days.

The witnesses were Miss Mina Miller, J. Francis Hanna, son of the ex-treasurer, and Lyman C. Hughes, the present city controller. Miss Miller said she had never taken any money from the office and that she had handled the cash only for the purpose of making change. She reiterated her former statement that she had frequently seen Hanna and his son take money from the drawer, but had no means of telling the amounts.

Miss Miller told of the real estate purchases that have been made recently by herself and her mother, and said that the first property had been bought with the proceeds of property sold at New Bedford. This money had been invested in city property, which had later been sold and a house and lot bought, on which a mortgage had been given.

First Talk of a Shortage.

"I was first told of the shortage in November," Miss Miller said, "when Mr. Hanna came to me and told me there was a deficit. He was much worried but seemed in better spirits after he had had a conversation with Mr. McCandless. That was just before election and after it was concluded he told me he was going out on an electioneering trip for Mr. McCandless. Mr. Hanna also spoke of the shortage the last day of his term. He came into the office with J. Lee McFate, the county detective, and the latter said there was a shortage. I asked him if he suspected me and he said he did not suspect anybody. He said, though, there was money missing and if it were not made good that day something would happen. It was not made good, it seemed, and nothing happened. After his term had expired Mr. Hanna again approached me and spoke of the shortage. He said the money was missing and that something was going to drop. He said 'You will know what to expect.' I asked him if he suspected me, and he wouldn't say that he did. He repeated that the money was missing and that there was something wrong."

Miss Miller persisted in her statement that there was a check book missing from the office. The book has never been discovered and its whereabouts is still a mystery. J. Francis Hanna, son of the ex-treasurer, followed Miss Miller on the stand. He admitted having done considerable gambling, but said it was always for small amounts. He said the books were not balanced in the evening and the money was not counted. Hanna was certain that he had not spent as much as $10 a week.

Banker Tells of Notes.

The taking of testimony was completed this afternoon when Samuel Foltz, cashier of the First National bank, testified before the special committee. He was questioned concerning Hanna's modes of concealing his shortages by borrowing money at Foltz's bank to lift personal checks presented to the Lawrence Trust company. Foltz testified that Hanna had secured $1,000 on two different notes for that amount within the last three years. The first was made in 1903 and was paid February 7, 1905. The second was issued February 28, 1905, and was paid March 8. Both were indorsed by sureties for Hanna. Six per cent interest was paid at first and later it was reduced to five.

The investigating committee this evening secured the records and is making a tabulated statement of the cash on hand and money in the bank monthly from April 1, 1902, to April, 1905, covering Hanna's entire second term.

HYDE'S FIGURES ASTRAY

Statistical Board Reports He Gave Out Misleading Statement on Cotton.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—That a situation which is intolerable exists in the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture became apparent with today's exploit of the statistical board in preparing a new estimate on cotton acreage.

The Southern Cotton association from reports furnished by 17,000 correspondents made an estimate caly in June that the decrease in acreage would be at least 18 per cent. The bureau of statistics issued its report June 8, making the estimated decrease 11.4. Then came the investigation of the Southern Cotton association, which has raised as great an amount of trouble as the postoffice scandals.

Assistant Secretary Hays today reported to Secretary Wilson on the acreage of cotton planted this year. In his report he says:

A new estimate should be made on acreage planted and the figures in Mr. Hyde's hands when making his estimate should be used as a basis.

Mr. Hyde, with Mr. Holmes at his elbow, prompting him, made the estimate lower than the facts at his hand warranted.

The board finds that the acreage planted this year should have been estimated at 85.1 per cent of that planted last year, equivalent to a reduction of 14.9 per cent, instead of 11.4 per cent.

The grand jury investigating the cotton report scandal heard six witnesses today, four of them being from New York. It is believed that the investigation will continue for two weeks.

PEACE PARTY IS TO CALL TODAY

Japanese Minister Arranges for Visit of Baron Komura to President.

PROBABLE TERMS OF TREATY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, July 26.—Minister Takahira paid a flying visit to President Roosevelt today. It is known on unquestionable authority that his visit was to present to the president a matter of the gravest importance.

It is believed it related indirectly to the meeting in Finland of Emperor Wilhelm and Czar Nicholas. The Japanese fear the German emperor's dread of a Russian-Japanese alliance may affect the coming peace negotiations by stiffening the position of Russia in resisting Japanese demands. It is thought Japan wants to sound President Roosevelt on the attitude of the United States toward the proposed alliance, based on a "durable peace."

Baron Komura and Minister Takahira, as Japanese peace plenipotentiaries, will make an informal visit to President Roosevelt tomorrow.

MANCHESTER, MASS., July 26.—Baron Rosen tonight gave out a revised list of the members of the Russian peace commission, which is as follows:

Secretary of State M. Witte, first plenipotentiary; Baron Rosen, second plenipotentiary; officials of the foreign office, Privy Councillor Martens, Minister to China Pobotiloff, First Secretary of Embassy Hansen, M. De Plancon, M. De Jorosovets, Prince Koudscheff and M. Nabokoff; officials of the treasury department, Privy Councillor Shipoff and M. Vilenbine; officials of the general staff, Maj.-Gen. Yermoloff and Col. Samanyloff; representatives of the army, and Capt. Roussine, representing the navy.

CHERBOURG, FRANCE, July 27.—M. Witte has not left Cherbourg owing to the non-arrival of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which was fog-bound at Southampton. He expects to sail early this morning.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Whether there is to be peace in the far east or a continuance of the war will be practically decided at the first business meeting of the Washington conference, which will convene at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H., about August 5. Baron Komura will on that occasion communicate to M. Witte the essentials of Japan's terms for further negotiations.

Throughout the preliminary negotiations, however, Japan has made it clear at Washington that she wished to avoid unnecessary tedious negotiations.

It is known that Japan will demand an indemnity that will approximately cover the cost of the war to date. This was

ST. PETERSBURG, July 27.—Dispatches from Manchuria report the landing of a Japanese battalion and the seizure of a lighthouse on the Siberian coast near Teksatries, a post formerly called Alexdrovsk, 200 miles north of Vladivostok, after a preliminary shelling by torpedo boat destroyers.

Military officials here attach importance to the episode only in connection with the Sakhelin campaign, and say that as the landing was effected at a place where the straits of Tartary, between Sakhelin and the mainland are narrowest, it apparently is part of the startegy of the Japanese to prevent the escape of the Russian garrison in Sakhelin across the straits. They add that the landing is too far north to have any bearing on the main campaign, or on operations against Vladivostok.

MIDVALE WINS IN ARMOR TEST

Trial of Plate Proves Company Has Produced Good Article.

THREE SHOTS FIRED

Piece Not Shattered, and Prospects for Further Contracts Look Brilliant.

ORDNANCE OFFICERS PLEASED

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 28, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, July 26.

Announcement was made this afternoon at the navy department that the first official test of Midvale armor, which took place at the naval proving grounds, Indian Head, Maryland, was a success. This was the first official test of Midvale armor and results in the acceptance of group A under the company's old contract, calling for six thousand tons.

If the Midvale company is able to make satisfactory tests upon the balance of the first six thousand tons, and demonstrate to the satisfaction of the navy department that it is able to produce armor to meet all the requirement of the required specification and make the proper deliveries, it will receive a contract for an additional one thousand tons.

In the test today three shots were fired at the plate, which was of six inch face hardened armor. The shots were fired from a six inch gun, the shell which weighed 120 pounds having a striking velocity of 1,362 feet to a second. Penetrations in the plate measured from two and one-half to three inches without the plate being shattered.

Both the officials of the ordnance bureau and the officers of the Midvale Company present were highly gratified at the excellent showing made by the plate.

Officers of the Midvale Company informed the navy department today that the deliveries under the old contract will be made just as soon as transportation can be arranged. The four hundred and fifty tons, which comprises group A, are now in the yards of the company ready for shipment, and will be installed on the battleships Mississippi and Idaho.

Rear Admiral Mason, chief of the bureau of ordnance, announced this afternoon that monthly tests would be made of each group included in the old contract. By March 1, 1906, a decision would be reached as to whether the Midvale Company had been able to make satisfactory delivery under the old contract. If these deliveries are satisfactory the contract for an additional one thousand tons awarded conditionally last February will be given the Midvale Company.

Those present at today's test were Commander McLean of the ordnance bureau, Lieut. Galbraith, the ordnance expert stationed at the Midvale works, and Messrs. Chase and Cox, officials of the company.

The following statement was issued today by the bureau of ordnance of the navy department relative to the test at the Indian Head proving grounds of 6-inch armor plate manufactured for the new battleships Mississippi and Idaho:

"Midvale 6-inch face hardened armor plate, representing group A, consisting of about 450 tons of armor for the Mississippi and Idaho, under their contract dated December 16, 1903, passed a very excellent test under specification requirements at the naval proving ground, Indian Head, Md., today.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 26.—The Chicago City Railway Company today filed a bill in the United States circuit court for an injunction to restrain the city of Chicago from interfering with any of the company's lines. The municipal ownership ordinance passed by the city council last March is attacked as being unconstitutional.

The court is informed in the bill that the City Railway Company now has possession and control of 119 lines within the corporate bounds of the city on which the franchises run until 1908.

It is expected that the 99 year act so often considered by the courts will play an important part in the argument in the present case.

GEN. FRED GRANT SPENDS DAY HERE

Makes Inspection of Allegheny Arsenal, and Is Received at Americus Club.

COMING IS UNANNOUNCED

Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant, commander of the department of the east, with headquarters at Governor's island, New York, was in Pittsburgh all day yesterday, but his presence was practically unknown outside of the Americus club, where he made two calls. Gen. Grant came to the city on his annual inspection tour, and came almost unannounced.

On Tuesday night Lieut. Kent Browning, in command of the Allegheny arsenal, received a telegram from Gen. Grant stating that he would arrive yesterday morning. Accompanied by two members of his department staff he arrived over the Pennsylvania railroad from New York at 8 o'clock, and after breakfast at the Hotel Lincoln, boarded a Butler street car for the arsenal.

A salute of 11 guns was fired upon his arrival at the arsenal. Donning his service uniform he made a formal inspection of the post, looking carefully over the company of 65 men stationed there, examining their equipment and going through every building on the grounds from cellar to garret. Even the minutest detail did not escape him. He closely examined the cartridges and the guns and questioned the soldiers. He was accompanied by his department chief quartermaster, Col. John M. Pullman, and his department chief surgeon, Col. Vallery Havard.

Called at Americus Club.

The quartermaster examined the barracks and the surgeon the hospital. Gen. Grant went over all the accounts and papers and announced that everything was in first-class condition. He finished the inspection about 1 o'clock and returned to the hotel for luncheon. Immediately after luncheon he went to the Americus club, whose guest he has been several times. Few persons were in the clubhouse when he called and he left a note for the resident secretary, Maj. Harper, stating that he could not leave the city without paying a visit to the club which had so honored his father and that he would make another call.

Two automobiles took Gen. Grant and his party out the boulevard to Homestead in the afternoon, returning about 5 o'clock when he went again to the Americus club, where he found Maj. Harper and a number of the members of the club awaiting him. After spending a little time at the club another automobile trip was taken, Maj. Harper accompanying the party through the parks, returning to the hotel at 8:30 o'clock. After dinner Gen. Grant departed for Philadelphia at 10 o'clock.

Arsenal to Be Retained.

Gen. Grant was asked whether the government has any intention of selling or abandoning the arsenal property here. "I asked that question at Washington and was told that the government intends to retain the arsenal," said Gen. Grant. "It is not very valuable as a military post or as a strategical location, and in the future will be used mainly for storage purposes. It does not pay to keep a large force of men here. I found the buildings and everything else in good condition."

Speaking of the army service, Gen. Grant said:

"The United States army, while consisting of only about 58,000 men now, is at a high standard, better than it has ever been. The work now is in the training and this is always kept up, because the enlistments make changes every three years. We are always training new men for the service and keeping it at a high state of efficiency in preparation for any possible emergency."

Gen. Grant's entertainers in Pittsburgh were Lieut. Browning, the commander, and Dr. F. C. Macy, the surgeon at the arsenal, and Capt. Albert A. Franzheim, former sheriff of Ohio county, W. Va., who commanded a company of immunes raised at Wheeling in the Spanish-American war. Capt. Franzheim has a personal acquaintance with Gen. Grant.

A Prisoner of Japanese.

Gen. Grant is a man of middle age and bears a striking resemblance to his father, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. He is plain spoken and entirely unaffected in manner. In the service he is very popular. His chief surgeon, Col. Harvard, who accompanied him, was attached to the Russian army as a military representative of the United States army in Manchuria, and was made a prisoner by the Japanese when they captured the city of Mukden. Col. Harvard was released when he agreed to return to this country, and was assigned to the department of the east. Col. Pullman is a grizzled warrior who has seen long service in the United States army, and is considered one of its most efficient officers.

MUST PAY AUTO LICENSE.

Judge Fraser Decides City Ordinance Valid Imposing Vehicle License on Motor Cars.

Judge Robert S. Fraser handed down a decision yesterday on the appeal of Dr. John A. Hawkins in the automobile license case. The decision is in favor of the city ordinance imposing a license fee of $6 on one-seated autos and $10 on those of more than one seat. Dr. Hawkins, to make a test case, refused to pay the city license and was fined $25, and an appeal was taken.

Official notice was sent to the city treasurer and controller and it was stated that if owners of motor cars do not come forward at once to pay their license fee, proceedings will be instituted to collect the penalty of $25. The court returned the fine imposed on Dr. Hawkins. It will not be necessary to pay the state license fee.

Judge Fraser held that the act of 1868 authorizing the city to collect a vehicle tax and the subsequent act of 1901 authorizing the city to impose for revenue purposes a tax on vehicles was broad enough to include automobiles, which were known at the time.

TO COLLECT SWITCH TAX.

Larkin Says He Has Finally Induced Treasurer to Take Action.

Controller Larkin says he has finally persuaded the city treasurer to take up the collection of the license tax on railroad switches, sidings and turnouts under the ordinance passed by the city councils in October, 1903, and which went into effect the first of December of that year.

The ordinance required the director of public works to furnish the treasurer with data, but this the director failed to do, and no effort was made to collect the tax. City Auditor Kimball is said to be gathering the data which the controller is to turn over to the treasurer.

Bank of Pittsburgh's New Home Is a Model of Convenience

The home of the Bank of Pittsburgh has been completely remodeled during the last few months, and today the public is invited to inspect the result. The building has been extended through from Fourth avenue to Third, and the entire clerical force has been moved back to the new part, leaving the old building entirely for the public, the receiving and paying tellers and the officers. In addition to the workroom, the new part of the building contains the directors' room, and, in the basement, dining-room and kitchens, shower baths and toilet rooms for the use of the officials and clerical force.

The old banking room, with its beautiful domed ceiling, has been entirely redited with Pevanazzo marble railings, counters and wainscoting, with solid bronze counter screens and divisions of the finest cast bronze metal, enclosing the cashiers' departments and the tellers' divisions, all forming a beautiful center lobby from which a view can be obtained through arched openings of the long workroom, and also a view of the two famous paintings in the front and rear tympanum panels—one by Blashfield and one by Millet.

In the additions and alterations of this building great care has been exercised to retain the beauties of the building as originally designed, and the materials chosen have been the finest of their kinds—marble, bronze and mahogany. The decorations are in ivory tints, with gold relief work, the effect of which is to give a beautiful and dignified banking room. The new directors' room, though very much larger than the old one, is an exact reproduction of the room where for many years the board has held its meetings.

FILTRATION SCANDAL MAY GET INTO COURTS

Federal Authorities May Soon Be Asked to Investigate Father Piscopo's Charges.

As a result of the charges made against the manner in which laborers were secured and their treatment at the city filtration site in Aspinwall borough, it is probable the federal authorities will be called upon to investigate the charges. Special agents are investigating the matter, which was exposed by the Rev. Father Bonaventura Piscopo, pastor of the Italian Catholic church in Sharpsburg. Father Piscopo charges that the padrone system is being employed by the contractors to secure workmen.

Attorney A. V. D. Watterson, Father Piscopo's attorney, yesterday stated he is looking into the affairs of the men employed at the filtration site and intimated that he may have some startling disclosures to make soon. He said they cannot be made public now, but the knowledge secured may also affect other cities besides Pittsburgh. The men conducting the investigation expect to get information on which to work and then suit will be brought in the United States courts.

Attorney Watterson stated that Father Piscopo secured permission to erect a temporary chapel on the filtration property and the site was selected by the priest and Frederick E. Fields, division engineer in charge of the construction of the filters and basins at the plant. Father Piscopo since then has ordered the lumber for the chapel, but when he made the charge that the padrone system was being used in building the plant he was notified by the engineers not to have the chapel built. Since then he has received a message by telephone that he will not be permitted to build the chapel unless he consents to having the investigation dropped. The name of the person who telephoned to the priest is being kept secret for the present.

Attorney Watterson stated that if they are able to prove their charges the immigration authorities will have to deport the workmen wholesale. He charges the workmen are paid less wages than if they had been secured from among the laborers residing in this section and that they are also compelled to purchase their supplies at a store at the plant and are charged as much as 20 per cent more than the stores about Aspinwall or in the city charge for goods.

Detroit Woman in Trouble.

Detectives Louis Leff and Charles Aymer arrested Georgiana Clark yesterday at a Smithfield street store on a charge of stealing a skirt. She is 25 years old and came here but two weeks ago from Detroit. At her room in North avenue, Allegheny, the detectives found a lot of women's clothes and two bolts of silk which it is claimed were stolen.

Car Strikes Little Girl.

Anne Stack, aged 6, living in Howard street extension, Allegheny, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday evening by being struck by a car on East street, near the corner of Royal. The little girl, with some playmates, was in Royal street and started to run across the tracks. A city-bound car struck the girl and knocked her to the sidewalk. Her hip was broken and she suffered internal injuries.

Miss Lyon Is Hurt.

ST. ANN'S CHURCH IS KILLED BY STRIFE

Affairs of Syrian Congregation Will Be Closed Up and the Property Sold.

St. Ann's Catholic congregation in this city is to be disbanded and the church property at Fulton and Gilmore streets is to be sold. The congregation was organized for the Syrian population of this city and the members of the church were given a pastor from their own country. Because of dissension among the members, and because they have failed to contribute to the support of the church, Bishop Canevin and his council has decided to close up the affairs of the church.

The church has had two pastors, the members of the congregation have quarreled with both of them and much scandal has resulted. The members have sued the pastors, and in turn a number of them have been placed under bond to keep the peace. The first pastor was the Rev. Father Korkomas, who came here from Syria to organize the congregation. Property at Fulton and Gilmore streets was purchased and a brick building erected. Three years ago the church was dedicated, and services have been held in the building since.

The feast of St. Ann was celebrated in the church in Fulton street yesterday. Masses were celebrated at 8 and 10 a. m. by the pastor. In the evening the relic of St. Ann was exposed and the services closed with the benediction. Services will be held in the church each evening this week, and the final service in connection with the feast will be held Sunday evening.

ANOTHER MASS MEETING.

Citizens of Lincoln Avenue District Are Promised Use of School House.

The citizens of the Lincoln avenue district, Twenty-first ward, are to hold another meeting tomorrow night to hear the report of the committee appointed to call upon city officials in regard to public improvements in the district. The meeting will be held at the Lemington school house, E. E. Wettinsgill, one of the school directors, having granted the use of the school house for the meeting.

Mr. Wettinsgill was absent from the city at the meeting the other night when the citizens were locked out of the school house, and the citizens find that they did him an injustice in denouncing him with the other school directors and the councilmen.

FORD PREDICTS MANY CANDIDATES IN RACE

Clarion County Primary System Will Be State Law if Success Here.

Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the county Republican committee, denied yesterday that he was a candidate for secretary of state, and said he had no knowledge of any person proposing him for the place.

William B. Kirker stated yesterday that he would not withdraw as a candidate for prothonotary, that he was in the race to stay, although he had not formally notified the county chairman of his candidacy.

Chairman Ford said yesterday that as candidates had until September to give notice, there was plenty of time for many to enter the field who are not yet announced. Chairman Ford predicts a big vote at the primaries, which are to be held under the Clarion county system.

"If the coming primaries work smoothly in Allegheny county it will probably lead to legislation adopting the Clarion county system for the entire state," said Mr. Ford. "In the event of the experiment here proving a success the next legislature will probably enact a law covering the Clarion county system, with additional safeguards, similar to those of a regular election.

"The coming primaries are an experiment in this state, because they have not before been tried in a populous community."

PEACE PARTY CALLS TODAY

communicated to Russia early in the preliminary negotiations. It will not fall far short of $1,000,000,000. Besides the indemnity, it is believed Japan's other essentials to the continuance of the negotiations are the cession to Japan of Sachalien, of the Liao-Tung peninsula, and of the railway as far as Harbin, in recognition of Japan's predominating influence in Korea and the return of Manchuria to China.

If the Russian plenipotentiaries are prepared to accept these essentials, the officials here are confident that the basis will be laid for negotiations sure to lead to the signing of the treaty of Washington, bringing peace in the far east.

As for the subjects remaining to be discussed, a tedious one, it is believed and one on which Russia will be disposed to negotiate with the greatest caution, is the program for the restoration of Manchuria to Chinese control.

Japan believes that certain time will be required in which to restore public order and the establishment of a regular system of Chinese police administration. During this period Japan will insist that the remain in control of the administration of the province. It is believed the policy to be suggested by Japan in this matter will not be unlike that followed by the Washington government with reference to Cuba. American troops being withdrawn from the island as soon as a stable government was in control of the situation.

A second subject for the plenipotentiaries to settle will be the surrender of all the Russian ships now interned in neutral ports.

Europe believes Japan will demand the neutralization of Vladivostok. The Washington government does not share in this belief. Rather than submit to Japan's dictation on this point, Russia has let it be known that she would certainly continue the war.

GALA DAY SPEAKERS.

Samuel Gompers and the Rev. S. Edward Young to Be Among Them.

It was announced at the meeting of the general Labor Day committee last night at 412 Diamond square that the Rev. S. Edward Young would be one of the orators to address the working men on that day. President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor will be the other orator. Secretary G. H. Driver of the committee said the structural iron workers, carpenters, iron molders, plumbers and the watch engravers' organization of Canton, O., would be represented in the parade.

It required some time for the committee to dispose of the proposition that all vehicles used in the parade should be driven by members of the Cab Drivers' union. It was thought the drivers organization did not have enough members to man all the vehicles. It was decided that so far as possible union drivers would be engaged.

RUSSIA DESIRES PORT IN NORWAY

To Obtain This She Would Help Seat German Prince on Norwegian Throne.

OBJECT OF ROYAL MEETING

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 27.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Stockholm says: "The object of Emperor William's interview with Emperor Nicholas was to obtain the consent of the latter for a prince of the house of Hohenzollern to ascend the throne of Norway. It is possible that the Russian emperor will consent, provided Russia be permitted to slightly rectify her frontier on the Atlantic."

The Daily Mail, commenting on the dispatch, suggests that the "rectified frontier" means that Russia wants to acquire the strip of Norwegian territory which parts Finland from the Arctic ocean, thus obtaining a seaport."

The Stockholm correspondent of the Morning Post sends an interview with Dr. Sven Anders Hedin, the Swedish geographer and explorer, expressing the opinion that Russia will sooner or later seize the strip of territory which includes Tromsoe, Hamerfest and Varde, in Norway, and declaring that there is no reason why Sweden should spend blood and treasure in defense of that territory, although of course, he says, Sweden would fight should Russia attempt to take still more territory.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(Special.)—Inquiry in diplomatic circles as to the significance of the meeting of Emperor William of Germany and the czar of Russia off the Finnish coast, discloses the fact that Denmark is apprehensive that Germany seeks to obtain for Russia a port for the establishment of a naval station in Norway. That the German emperor is agreeable to such an arrangement, that advantage is being taken of the separation of Norway from Sweden to effect this move, which would add to Russian strength in Europe just when her fortunes have been shattered in the far east, is the interpretation given the news from Europe that Emperor William will next visit Denmark.

Whatever may be the future of Vladivostok, it is generally admitted that the Russian advance has been checked for many years in Asia, and that with the new affiliations developing between England and France, Russia must strengthen her position in Europe. So also must Germany. Russia is poor in naval stations. The navy yards on the Baltic are remote from the Atlantic, in which Russian fleets must operate when they are rebuilt.

Denmark commands the entrance to the Baltic and should Denmark unite with one of Russia's enemies, the Russian fleet would be in a bottle. A port in Norway would afford Russia a naval base from which operations could be carried on just as originally it was proposed to dominate the eastern seas from Port Arthur, leased from the Chinese.

GOVERNOR BLAMES ALL TROUBLE ON THE JEWS

Says But for Them There Would Have Been No Trouble in Odessa, and No Warship Mutiny.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ODESSA, July 26.—The governor of Odessa has issued a proclamation saying he has received letters from the Jews, charging the police with preparing for a Jewish massacre. He adds:

"The governor is astonished at the Jews addressing such letters to him, seeing it is the Jews themselves who caused all the disorders. The police invariably found revolvers, bombs and prohibited literature in Jewish houses. But for the Jews there would be no disturbances and no Knaz Potemkine affair. Now the Jews have the impertinence to bring charges against the police."

ST. PETERSBURG, July 26.—The disorders at Nishni-Novgorod, have been continued four days with daily collisions between the rival camps, into which the workmen and the rioting roughs have divided, but there has been no general riot since Sunday's five hours' fray. According to the government advices 17 men were killed and three were fatally wounded Monday and Tuesday night. Sunday night a bomb was thrown against the school house in the suburb of Sormovo, where a detachment of soldiers was quartered. The thrower of the bomb was killed.

CARDINAL SPEAKS ON GRAFT EVIL

Finds Ray of Hope in That Corruptionists Are Brought to Light.

GIVES CREDIT TO THE PRESS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 26.

"Corporation corruption is a fixed evil that we must reckon with just as long as the present condition of society exists in this country," said Cardinal James Gibbons today. "Whenever there is an amalgamation of great capital, or a large collection of men interested in one money-making concern, there is sure to be corruption. It is a story as old as the world's history. The only reason it comes so much to the fore at present, is that the methods of its detection are daily growing stronger.

"Corruption, I am much afraid, will always exist, as long as human nature yields to the attributes that lead to temptation. The bright spot in the whole swamp of present moral degradation is the fact that the degradation is made known. The dread of exposure is the counterbalancing element, and that fear, that horror of having a name once respected dragged down, is due to the efforts of the metropolitan press. It may not be good theology, it may not be good ethics, but it is certainly good common sense, and a very good moral element that the dread of exposure to the public press keeps many a man sticking close to the path of rectitude who otherwise would stray off into the byways of personal graft."

Cardinal Gibbons is spending the summer away down at the farther end of Long Island, in a modest little rectory of Father O'Hare, who is the pastor of the local church at Southampton.

TWENTIETH WARD PROTESTS.

Still Demands Better Water Supply and Citizens Will Hold Meeting Tonight.

Twentieth warders protesting against the shortage of water, will hold a meeting tonight at the residence of Dr. W. R. Hamilton, Penn and Wilkinsburg avenues. Councilman Helmold said yesterday Director Clark and Controller Larkin would be present. Director Bigelow was invited, but is not expected to attend.

The citizens of the Twentieth are not disposed to give up the fight for a better water supply and it is expected some plan will be devised to induce the city administration to afford relief. Controller Larkin is expected to give vent to his theory that $200,000 or $300,000 can be spared from the filtration fund for water pipe extension.

When Rea arrived at the house a crowd of excited Italians had surrounded it and were making threats of killing Dominick, who, fearful of a lynching, had barred himself in the second story, while his wife held the crowd at bay at the front door. The little girl was taken by neighbors to the office of Dr. J. L. Robertson in Beaver avenue, and late last night was in a serious condition. Dominick was taken to jail to await a hearing.

FIRST STREET CAR RIDE; FIRST SKYSCRAPER VIEW

Mrs. Emma Lang of Near Pitcairn Experiences a Number of New Sensations on Her Initial Visit to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Emma Lang, aged 53, living near Pitcairn, yesterday, for the first time in her life, rode on a street car and saw a building over two stories high. A ride on a railroad train is an experience yet in store for her. She almost fainted when, walking up Fifth avenue, she was confronted by the Frick building.

Perhaps Mrs. Lang would have lived out her life without ever knowing what an important witness in the divorce suit brought by William W. Wallace against Willis M. Wallace on the ground of desertion. Attorney B. H. Thompson yesterday filed the libel and his appointment as commissioner in the case.

The plaintiff brought Mrs. Lang to Pittsburgh to attend the hearing at the office of Attorney H. H. Negley. He had more trouble with her than he anticipated. She held onto the seat in front of her on the trolley car, like grim death, and when she saw the Frick building, gasped in amazement, exclaiming:

"My goodness, what is that?"

Mrs. Lang had only seen street cars from a distance before and never expected to ride on one. She lived in an unobtrusive manner within a half mile of Pitcairn and washed for her neighbors.

The case developed that Wallace, whose wife is alleged to have deserted him in 1896, kept his home open and waiting for her to return for nine years, but she did not put in an appearance. He testified he had never quarreled with his wife and he does not know now why she left him. He went away one morning to attend a funeral, and when he returned in the afternoon, Mrs. Wallace had left the house and taken the furniture with her. She took up her residence a short distance away. Ten days later he found her buying goods at Walls station, and asked her why she left him. She said:

"Oh, I don't know; I'll see you after awhile."

Wallace testified he wanted his wife to return, but she only replied:

"No. I'll see you again."

Wallace then opened the house and left it open during the nine years, finally bringing the suit.

Mrs. Lang told of washing for the couple, and about cleaning a room in another house for Mrs. Wallace. She knew Wallace had kept the house open all that time. She said Wallace had a good reputation and she could not understand why his wife had left him.

WATER PURCHASE IS CALLED OFF

Council Committee Declines to Meet the Monongahela Company Officials.

BIGELOW SEES MAYOR TODAY

That the city administration proposes to abandon the negotiations for the purchase of the Monongahela Water Company's plant, as well as the hump scheme, is apparent by the refusal yesterday to meet officials of the water company, although the special council committee appointed to conduct the negotiations had previously asked the company for a conference some day this week.

The committee, which was appointed to do the will of the administration, met last Friday and directed the city clerk to write and request a conference with the officials of the Monongahela company some day this week, allowing the company to name the day. A reply was received on Tuesday from the company, stating that its officials would meet the council committee yesterday afternoon.

City Clerk Minnemeyer yesterday notified the company that the committee could not meet the officials at the time appointed, because the committee desired to consult with the mayor before meeting the water company officials. Nothing was said at the meeting of the committee on Friday about the matter being submitted to the mayor, and the city clerk said yesterday he did not know why the mayor was to be consulted in regard to the purchase of the water plant.

Acted Without Authority.

The city clerk sent this word to the water company officials without authority of the whole committee. It is supposed he acted upon the instructions of Director Bigelow. He says he consulted three of the five members of the committee, Chairman Costello, P. J. Barry and Robert Porter. The committee, however, held no meeting to so instruct the clerk to call off the meeting with the company.

Mayor Hays was asked yesterday if the council committee was to hold any conference with him to discuss the purchase of the South Side water plant prior to meeting the officials of the company.

"I don't know of any meeting with the committee and have not heard that they intended to consult me about the matter."

The practical abandonment or postponement of action in the negotiations for the purchase of the South Side water plant is taken as significant of the status of the hump matter, because the proposition to buy the South Side plant was made by the administration only in the hope of winning South Side votes for the hump bond issue.

Director Bigelow telephoned yesterday to Mayor Hays, who returned to the city from a fishing trip in Virginia, that he would be at the city hall this morning to talk with the mayor concerning the hump matter. The director said he did not feel well enough to come downtown yesterday.

Afraid of a Defeat.

Mayor Hays was asked if he thought the hump proposition ought to be forced through regardless of the opposition of H. C. Frick.

"Well, I don't know about that," said he. "We will have to decide that question. I think, though, the hump cut should be 18 feet or nothing. I am to see Mr. Bigelow tomorrow and I suppose some decision will then be reached."

Director Bigelow is to consult with Mayor Hays more particularly in regard to the political feature of the hump matter. The effect of a defeat of the hump bond issue at the polls would seriously impair the prestige of the administration and the Citizens party, both in the fall election and in the mayoralty contest next spring.

Director Bigelow said last night that he would see Mayor Hays this morning to discuss the hump, but the director would not say he expected to reach a conclusion regarding the matter at the conference. He said he was still undecided whether to continue the project or to drop it, and said he did not know when he would be able to make up his mind fully on the subject. Mr. Bigelow is looking decidedly unwell. He has been afflicted with a severe cold and an acute attack of indigestion.

TO ASK PUBLIC SUPPORT.

Old Soldiers Expect All Political Parties to Aid Memorial Hall Project at Polls.

A vigorous campaign will be waged by the old soldiers on behalf of the project to erect a memorial hall to soldiers and sailors of this county. Political speakers of all parties will be asked to assist the movement.

All the preliminary details have been attended to, although it required a number of years to bring it to the point where the people have a chance to express their will. All the grand army posts will pass resolutions and assist as far as possible in getting their friends to work for it at the polls. A meeting will be held next week by a number of those interested and arrangements made to give the matter publicity.

STRIKES TO BE FEW.

Molders Are Securing Decided Concessions from Foundries.

Shop committees of the local organizations of the Iron Molders' union who are canvassing manufacturing concerns in this district with a view of getting their signatures to $4.20 per day agreement for one year, report excellent results.

A meeting will be held in G. A. R. hall, Allegheny, tonight, when all shop committees will report. Firms refusing to sign the $3.20 agreement and declining a minimum scale of $3.30 without agreement, will be considered "unfair" and strikes will at once be declared in such plants. With the bright outlook now before the foundry trade it is not believed that many will decline both of the propositions.

Wonderful Water World.

It is interesting to know that in the Province of Ontario, Canada, there are over 40,000 square miles of inland water stretches, exclusive of the Great Lakes and the River St. Lawrence, and nearly all lying north of Lake Ontario in the "Highlands of Ontario." These Highlands embrace the districts known as "Muskoka," "Lake of Bays," "Magnetawan River," "Lake Nipissing and the French River," "Temagami," "Algonquin Park" and "Kawartha Lakes," and are all reached directly by the lines of the Grand Trunk railway system. Speaking of the "Muskoka Lakes" region, the Cleveland Leader in an article headed "Builders Revel in Wilds of Muskoka," being a report by their special staff representative of an outing which the members of the Builders' Exchange of that city to the number of 200 enjoyed in this lakeland territory, says: "A hundred Chautauquas rolled into one summer resort region would not compare with the "Ontario Highlands." Summer cottages and hotels, pretty camps and hundreds of sailboats and canoes passed in panorama as the steamer 'Medora' steamed past scores of enchanting islands."

A copy of a handsomely illustrated descriptive publication portraying the attractions of this magnificent territory will be sent free to any one applying to W. Robinson, traveling passenger agent, 506 Park building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

PAUL MORTON IS IN FULL CONTROL

Equitable's Board of Directors Elect Him to Presidency of the Society.

HIS SALARY TO BE $80,000

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 26.

After a two hours' session of the directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society, it was announced this afternoon that Paul Morton had been elected president of the society. He succeeds James W. Alexander, whose resignation was accepted just before Mr. Morton was chosen chairman of the board, which office he will retain.

The election of Mr. Morton to both of these important offices in the society will give him a control over its affairs, it is believed, which has never been enjoyed by any one man since the death of the late Henry B. Hyde, the organization's founder.

Along with other business transacted by the board, the resignation of Nevada N. Stranahan, collector of the port, as a director, was also accepted, as was also that of former President Alexander's resignation as a director of the society.

George F. Vieter, of this city, and Ernest B. Kruttschnitt, of New Orleans, were nominated as directors, and will be elected at tomorrow's special meeting. Mr. Vieter is a prominent dry goods and commission merchant of this city, and Mr. Kruttschnitt is one of the leaders of the bar in the southwest.

Chairman Morton reported to the directors that in pursuance of his policy of retrenchment the society would effect savings of $500,000 a year. He submitted a final report of the first six months, which was pronounced very satisfactory by the directors.

The matters of pension to the widow of H. B. Hyde and others has been referred to a committee, consisting of Directors McCook, Whitman and Zehnder, who will probably report thereon tomorrow. It is also understood that Mr. Morton's salary, as president of the society, will be $80,000 a year. A. B. Thomas was elected a member of the executive committee, which has not yet been fully reorganized.

That Archibald C. Haynes, head of the largest Equitable agency in the world, is preparing to part company, not only with the Equitable, but with Gage E. Tarbell as well, is now regarded certain.

James W. Alexander left here today for the Catskills, to join his wife and other members of his family. Judging from outward appearances, he is now in good health. While waiting for the train Mr. Alexander walked over to the weighing machine in the station and dropped a penny in the slot and then stepped on the platform. The scale pointed to the 156 mark, and Mr. Alexander remarked that he formerly weighed 197.

INSURANCE COMPANIES ARE BEING INVESTIGATED

Three Local Mutual Concerns Are Receiving Attention of Pennsylvania State Commission.

Robert Forster, actuary for the state department of insurance, is making an investigation of three local insurance companies who are said to offer lower rates than others who are members of the board of fire underwriters. The companies being investigated are the North American Mutual, Duquesne Mutual and Lafayette Mutual. It is said that the inquiry is being made at the suggestion of the Insurance Inspection Company of this city, and the report of Mr. Forster is expected to be in the hands of Deputy Insurance Commissioner McCulloch tomorrow.

The companies under investigation are not members of the board of fire underwriters of Allegheny county, and are securing much business because of their low rates. It is said that one business man secured a $1,000 policy for an $18 yearly premium, whereas he was compelled to pay $40 for a similar policy in other companies.

That the three companies are in a measure affiliated is shown by the fact that some officer in each is an officer in the other companies and that each concern has practically the same assets. The report of 1904 shows George C. Bell to be president and A. C. Childs secretary of the North American Company. The assets were given as $19,750 in stocks and bonds, while the liabilities are given as the same amount. The insurance in force at the end of 1904 was $559,073.

A. G. Marshal is given as the vice president and F. D. Dunbar as secretary of the Duquesne company, whose stocks and bonds are valued at $47,900 and insurance in force at $1,212,798 at the end of last year.

George C. Bell is president and F. D. Dunbar secretary of the Lafayette company, whose stocks and bonds are valued at $17,875, and insurance in force $707,145 in the 1904 report.

EFFECTILE

This new metal tiling has many advantages unknown to other similar products. It is very lasting, the base being composed of strong metal plates with a highly enameled surface, combining at once durability and attractive appearance. One of the most important features is that after the first cost of application there is no further expense for repairs. As a covering for walls and ceilings of kitchens, vestibules, bathrooms, etc., it has no equal, and fully deserves the distinction of being known as "the acme of perfection."

Payment of a 4 per cent dividend on Erie second preferred stock is an encouraging sign of the times. This is its first dividend since reorganization of the property. Erie suffered from stock watering many years ago and its ability to divide profits even under the plan of reorganization is evidence of prosperity in the land, and of good management.

Weather Prophet Devoe declares a storm is forming in the Gulf region that will bring frost and snow in its wake. This is a bold prediction. If verified it will make the man a great reputation. If it fails it will ruin what he has. There is no reason, however, why anyone should begin preparing coverings for his corn or oats in anticipation of the blizzard. In Missouri, at least, they will ask Mr. Devoe to "show me."

Investigation of the shortage in New Castle's treasury is disclosing a peculiar state of affairs. It is quite certain the funds are gone, but it is less clear where they went to. The total absence of system in the keeping of cash or accounts is, an astounding revelation and suggests some blame, at least, attaching to the city. New Castle has experience enough to teach it to require carefully itemized statements at frequent intervals.

Judge Frazer has decided that automobiles must take out city licenses, regardless of possession of a state license. This should settle the matter. The fees are not heavy and the license is not so much for revenue as for protection of the public. The public is entitled to the fullest protection possible, and autoists can well afford to acquiesce. They will find fewer troubles when abuses have been eliminated.

Political meetings of every character have been forbidden in Moscow. This may be taken as a sequel to the zemstvo congress. It is an act not in accord with the recommendations of the zemstvo meeting, which have been indorsed by the Russian nobles, but is an indication of the strength of the reactionary spirit in official circles. Men accustomed to the abuse of arbitrary powers, as most Russian officials are, do not surrender them readily.

A further transformation is promised for Neville island. A large part of it has been converted from market gardens to the propagation of steel plants and it is said the remainder will be made a pleasure resort, after the manner of Coney island. There are possibilities in that direction, for Pittsburgh needs outdoor recreation. It is a pity, however, that Neville island has not become a part of the Greater Pittsburgh before the realization of this plan.

In the estimation of the St. Louis Globe Democrat the Lake Erie and Ohio river canal is essential to preserve the supremacy of Pittsburgh in iron and steel manufacture. The case is not quite as bad as our contemporary imagines. Pittsburgh's supremacy is safe for a long time to come. The canal is needed because the growth of Pittsburgh's tonnage is so rapid and great that additional transportation facilities are needed, and will be needed. This is an important difference with a distinction.

Yellow fever at New Orleans continues to give the authorities much worry. Even if they could be absolutely sure of mosquito transmission of the infection, it is no light task to apply the remedy to a large population, a considerable proportion of which has no adequate conception of sanitary measures. Every precaution is being taken with the known cases and persons under surveillance, but the very fear of contagion is a factor in its wider dissemination. We do not believe there is any ground for panic, and it is certain that calm behavior will do much to prevent an epidemic.

An item emanating from Franklin describes the similarity between the judicial candidates of Venango county, Judge George S. Criswell and the Hon. Robert F. Glenn. Both are good lawyers and good citizens who live near each other on the same street and attend the same church. The correspondent says they differ in the one fact that Mr. Glenn desires a change in the judicial office while Judge Criswell prefers it to remain as it is. There is, however, another important difference. George S. Criswell has been for more than 10 years a just, upright and able judge. Mr. Glenn can only say he would like to be the same, and as Venango is a Republican county, he is not likely to have his ambition gratified.

William Anderson, Editor.

William Anderson, editor emeritus of The Gazette, died yesterday at his home in Wilkinsburg. This announcement will shock thousands of readers of this paper as it did the men who work on The Gazette, when made to them. William Anderson was loved by all who knew him and respected by every acquaintance—a man of sterling character, lofty motives and kindly personality. He will be mourned by many, though he passed in the fullness of years and achievement.

William Anderson first became connected with The Gazette in 1840, when he was but 12 years of age. With the exception of brief intervals, he was employed on it and the Commercial until the two were consolidated. Soon after that he became the editor of the Commercial Gazette and remained in that capacity until retired to the position of editor emeritus, May 31, 1902, the reward of 62 years' continuous service in a strenuous profession.

In connection with his professional duties Mr. Anderson met the leading men of the country and participated in the events that have become history when it was warm in the making. He took part in the Abolition campaigns, assisted in founding the Republican party, was active in local movements for assistance and succor for the troops during the war, and afterward in civic works. He was modest and unassuming to a fault, but his wise counsel was often sought by men conspicuous in the arena of public life, and it was always cheerfully given in the best interest of the people.

William Anderson lived an exemplary life in every particular. With few advantages, at a time when books were not plentiful, he educated himself while working assiduously in his calling. Social by nature he never allowed his companions to lead him into evil ways. Rather, by his strong, cheerful personality, he drew them back from the pitfalls by the way. Even tempered and genial, he never willingly harmed any person. Faithful to the task before him, he toiled onward and looked upward, until he reached the goal of his ambition. To him there was pleasure in doing his full duty. There was sunshine along his path of contact with his fellow man; he strove always to do good, and he succeeded better than most men.

More About the Hump.

It remained for the Dispatch to raise a whine about the repaving of Oliver avenue. It has said nothing about the repaving of Diamond street, Smithfield street, Fifth avenue, or other streets which have been repaved in the same manner. Its pitiable attempt to compare an ordinary street repaving with the extraordinary reduction of the hump proposed by Director Bigelow, itself and the Leader, indicates the desperate pass to which it has come.

To relieve the nervous strain from which our contemporary appears to be suffering, it may be well to state The Gazette bought the site of its present home after the widening of Oliver avenue and paid for it on the basis of whatever appreciation may have followed that improvement. It has not asked the city to pay anything to make its quarters accessible, or in any other way for its benefit. The Dispatch can hardly say as much truthfully.

The Gazette has not opposed a reasonable cutting of the hump. It is opposed to the proposition to resubmit the question defeated last year, without a new argument in support of it, because special elections are expensive. It is convinced the cut of 18 feet cannot be made for the $2,000,000 for which bonds are asked. It believes the grade fixed upon before the court house was built was more than ample, and has no sympathy with the hue and cry for a cut one-half deeper. Moreover, it believes the people of Pittsburgh will never consent, and should not consent, to reduction of the hump until they are given complete and accurate information as to the cost, waivers of damages, etc. The Gazette has nothing to conceal and nothing to retract.

The New Kansas Pipe Line.

Interest in the Kansas to the Gulf pipe line project is renewed by its being brought to the financing stage in this city. This is the project told of in The Gazette two months ago and referred to several times since, in which the Mellons and George Crais of this city are interested with the Cudahys of Kansas City and the Shell Transport Company of London. The latter company enters as a receiver of the oil for marketing.

The plan of organization has been to have the Kansas and territory oil producers pool their properties to an aggregate of at least 10,000 barrels production daily, these properties being taken on a basis of part cash and part stock in the new company. Settled production is rated at $300 a barrel. Bonds are to be issued to construct the six-inch pipe line and pumping stations between Chanute, Kas., and Port Arthur, Tex. This outlet, added to the Standard company's facilities, will be nearly sufficient to care for the total production of the midcontinent fields.

The price at which producing properties are taken over is not suggestive of any advance in the price of oil at wells, under present conditions. Fifty cents a barrel for the highest grade and 25 cents a barrel for fuel oil, represent approximately the valuations placed on properties. The new company is obviously desirous of getting high grades for refining purposes, as the Texas fields would afford a larger supply of fuel oil at lower prices and with less distance to transport. The enterprise should be a good thing for its promoters on the basis indicated, which is conservative.

McKeesport's Meeting.

McKeesport will resort to an indignation meeting tomorrow as a means of preventing city councils carrying out the purpose to let a garbage contract not satisfactory to the people. Pittsburgh will watch the experiment with some interest. This McKeesport contract is so mild compared with recent transactions in this city that in contemplating it one wonders it has created so much of a disturbance. If the town meeting, after the manner of Philadelphia, serves to halt the measure the same remedy may be tried here—provided the authorities permit the meeting.

As a matter of fact Pittsburgh is probably the only city in the country—Allegheny always excepted—that would submit to the voting out of franchise ordinances of proffered clauses for public compensation. Pittsburgh is probably the only city in the country with an administration—"reform," or other—that would exert its utmost influence to have such a thing done. It is probably the only city in the country whose administration would endeavor to make a bond issue, for necessary public work, on the most expensive terms possible.

It is creditable to the people of Pittsburgh that they do not grow hysterical under such abuses of power, accompanied by violation of sacred pledges. But to continue that credit we assume these good people will not continue to tolerate these things beyond the time they have orderly recourse at the polls for a remedy. Meantime, they are observing McKeesport with interest.

Mayor Dunne's Failure.

Publication of a portion of the report of Mr. Dalrymple to Mayor Dunne of Chicago revives the subject of municipal ownership in that city. Comments are not complimentary to Mayor Dunne, who won the campaign on the promise of "immediate public ownership" as opposed to Mr. Harlan's platform of "ultimate public ownership." Mayor Dunne's program was impractical and has been abandoned. He and his supporters stand defeated and humiliated.

It is probably better so than to have Mr. Harlan win with the promise of "ultimate ownership." That program might have been carried out to the "ultimate" disadvantage of Chicago. Public ownership may be successful in some European cities, but there is no reason to believe it will be here. Glasgow, for example, is content with a "tram car" system that would not be satisfactory to any American town, and Glasgow conditions are favorable to its success. Columbus, O., has just tried an experiment in electric light. It paid $70 a year to a private corporation for 2,000-candle power arcs. Then it went to public ownership. At the end of the year it was found the same lights had cost $89 each.

Philadelphia's much-talked-about gas plant was a rank failure under municipal management. A private corporation has made it pay big dividends, though it has actually reduced the price of gas to consumers. Public ownership is not the panacea for the ills our cities complain of. Efficient administration and clean legislation are more needed.

It is proposed to convert Neville island into another Coney. Impossible. Do to it what they may, it will remain Neville island still.

There is a marked change in the Leader's attitude toward Mr. Frick, and one not wholly creditable to the Leader.

When the filtration plant is completed and paid for it will be soon enough to begin dividing the surplus appropriation.

No disastrous results followed the revised cotton crop estimate. In that particular it differed from the first estimate.

Councilmanic conference with the South Side water company has been postponed. Certainly. Why not?

Devoe predicts snow. He might have leaped into popularity if he had done this thing a week ago.

With two active pipe line systems Kansas may be satisfied it is not getting the worst of it.

Mr. Sato is a good speaker. That is probably why he was selected as spokesman.

Automobiles will pay license. They had better pay heed to other ordinances, too.

New Castle might be money in pocket if it had never owned a treasury.

State politics refuse to boil at the command of the carpers and critics.

The police trial board was not convinced, so it goes at that.

Mayor Dunne probably wishes he had never sent for Dalrymple.

McKeesport is having a strenuous time, also.

Extent of Commercialism.

Mr. Root may, of course, be actuated by political ambitions in his present course, and, then, he is not exactly a poor man as matters stand. But it is safe to say that he is actually clothed with many of the virtues attributed to him. We believe, moreover, that his views are shared in part by a good many million Americans and that "commercialism" is not nearly as rampant as represented.—Atlanta Constitution.

Uncle Eben's Reflection.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

We are great on quarantining against yellow fever, and the like. In fact, we boast of our great success in stamping out diseases that come to us from across the seas or from border lands.

With home-bred diseases it is different. Some of these we let alone, and some we discourage, and some we encourage.

Were we to devote as much energy to preventing the various diseases that afflict us most as we do to stamping out those that visit us occasionally, it would save a lot of suffering and distress.

We point with pride to our public parks, and boast of the vast numbers of people who visit them.

But what provisions are made for the accommodation of visitors?

Until recently there have been no shelter houses, and even now these are insufficient, so that in case of rainy or inclement weather, visitors are so exposed that they are liable to catch their "death o' cold."

And as for conveniences—health conveniences—there are none, so that visitors are compelled to suffer great inconvenience. The injuries which follow are far greater than most people imagine, and one of a most annoying and dangerous character.

Foreigners visiting our parks are simply amazed when told there are no conveniences arranged for the public. And are still more amazed to find none in the city.

* * *

Ask your family physician about the results of this woeful negligence on the part of our park promoters, and those who have them in charge.

Ask him particularly what the effect must necessarily be on women and children, and on old people?

Thousands of country people visit our city and parks every summer, and these can tell of great inconvenience and suffering for want of private retiring places, and of their long suffering afterward.

From one end of Allegheny parks to the other there is but one such place, and it is so miserably constructed, and so miserably kept, that it is as apt to be avoided as visited.

If all knew, and would tell of the beginnings of their physical ailments, many would say they began during visits to our parks, and to long strolls through the cities.

This woeful lack of provision for the comfort of the people is helpful only to patent medicine venders, specialists, and to medicine men who fatten on the ills and suffering of the people.

A very conservative estimate will show that more people sicken, and eventually die, from disorders due to the lack of public conveniences in our cities and parks, than to yellow fever, cholera, smallpox, and all other sporadic contagious diseases put together.

We are very fond of rushing away from home to stamp out diseases, but give little practical attention to those making invalids of tens of thousands at home.

* * *

Strangers coming to our cities, particularly women and children, suffer more than do our own people who have learned the ropes.

Men have learned that saloons all have conveniences for their patrons, therefore they patronize them, more through compulsion than for the want of a drink.

If our temperance workers were to get to work and erect public conveniences such as are to be found on every street corner in the cities of France, Germany, England and the old world generally, they would be doing more good than they do by threshing over and over again the same old temperance straw.

As the case now stands, saloons are a necessity, since there are no other places, or scarcely any, to which men may retire. Thousands of drinks are bought daily merely in return for the use of saloon closets.

This is a fact to which nearly everyone will testify whose business requires him to be on the streets much of his time.

We are great on puffing and blowing, singing and shouting, but when it comes right down to doing things that need to be done, and doing them now, we are far enough from the head of the procession.

Our leaders in civic reforms say this is too small, too vulgar for them to talk about. They want to be associated with big things, things that sound great and look large.

We boast much of our skyscrapers and big improvements, but have no word or thought for those who are furnishing the sinews of war, so to speak, and performing the necessary work.

* * *

Everyone who has visited Paris, Berlin, or any European cities or towns, has noticed, and has been favorably impressed, by the provisions made for the health and comfort of the people.

But have you ever seen a line or a word about all this in the glowing letters sent to their home papers, or even to their friends?

Oh no, it would be grossly immodest to write a word about it, or even to mention it, save in a whisper.

Is this modesty?

It has been well said that some people are too modest to be healthy, either in body or mind; that is, they affect a modesty that is unreasonable because it is unnatural, and it is, therefore, harmful to those who affect it.

Much has been said about public baths as conservators of public health, but their value is trivial as compared with other conveniences, for the bath is a luxury while the other is a necessity.

Society people take kindly to the bath fad, but when asked to provide conveniences for women and children who are abroad on our streets, they blush and turn away.

Department stores have made provisions for the comfort of their patrons, and find that they pay well, but they protest against the use of their toilet rooms by the public generally.

And only a few of those who come to the city on public occasions, or on other occasions, know of these conveniences, or feel free to use them.

Don't you think it would be well to cut down some of our other humps besides the one in Fifth avenue?

This is a matter more pertinent to the health of the people than is a filtration plant.

A Mathematician's Lapse.

One of the ablest mathematicians that ever came out of a commercial college was unable to qualify as an expert accountant because he could not add together 5 and 3 correctly. He made it 7 every time. "I made the mistake when a child," he explains, "and grew up with it. Of course, I know that 5 and 3 make 8, but when in a hurry the sum always goes down as 7, and my balances are worthless."—New York Press.

Where Her Troubles Began.

The divorce lawyer took his pencil from behind his ear and prepared to jot down the necessary memoranda.

"Tell me, as nearly as you can," he said, "the exact date when your matrimonial troubles began."

"I can give you the exact minute," snapped his fair client. "It was when the preacher said, 'I pronounce you husband and wife.'"—Chicago Tribune.

We Suffer from Explosions.

We have lost no great warships like the Victoria. Either through good seamanship or strong construction our modern warships have fared better than those of other nations in storms. Few of our vessels, except the first monitor, have foundered at sea, as so many European warships have foundered.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A Bachelor's Advice.

Prof. Starr of the university of Chicago thinks that young girls and young men should not marry simply because they fall in love, but arrange marriage on a scientific basis. He, by the way, is an old bachelor himself, and logically incapable of giving advice about marrying.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 26.—How the "ghosts" in the home of Paul Grogan, in Flushing, were laid out was explained today and the Grogan family, their friends and neighbors, have peaceful minds once more after ten days and nights of terror, and when they were about to sell the house. Incidentally Harry, 10 years old, and heir to the home of Grogan, eats his meals off the mantelpiece. He does not enjoy sitting down at present. It was Monday night when Mr. and Mrs. Grogan, sitting in their dining room, were startled by mysterious rappings coming at regular intervals from the floors and walls. They investigated, but to no purpose. When they returned to the dining room and regarded each other with questioning glances, a chair toppled over and fell with a crash to the floor. Mrs. Grogan fainted. There were no further demonstrations that night, but uncanny rappings were repeated the following evening. Grogan and his wife showed their worry. They did not believe in ghosts, but lacking any explanation for the mysterious noises and the moving of furniture, their faith was shaken. Night after night the disturbances were repeated. It was noticed that they never occurred after 2 o'clock.

On Tuesday night a loud crash in the dining room was followed by a pounding on the floor. The table had been raised and some dishes thrown to the floor. The room was not occupied, as they could plainly see. After some hesitation Grogan and two other men decided to start investigating. Lighting candles they entered the cellar. Two minutes later they dashed from the house thoroughly cowed. In the meantime Harry had disappeared. When he showed himself he was covered with dust and cobwebs. Then with tears in his eyes, he confessed. It was developed that the dumb waiter, which was not used, had once run from the cellar to the second floor. It had been boxed up, and as it only goes as far as the main or ground floor, the beams of which extended out into the wall it occupied, Harry, by sitting on the end of the beam, could get a leverage and easily raise it sufficiently to overturn or raise a chair. Harry and his father had a strenuous five minutes before the former was sent to bed, which also explains why Harry is taking his meals standing up.

Desperate Fight for Bronx Belle.

Watched by a pretty girl from the Bronx with whom both were in love, and with the understanding that the loser should give up any further effort to win the young woman's affections, two young men fought eight rounds last night in a desperate battle on the New York Central railroad bridge over the Harlem river in One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street. Both rivals were stripped to the waist and the fight was with bare knuckles. Tardy news of the affair came to the police. Then policemen from nearby posts interfered and sent the fighters, seconds, referee and 200 spectators scurrying to cover in rowboats, launches and even in automobiles. An amateur pugilist of northern Harlem and his rival who lives in the Bronx, sought the favor of a young woman also a resident of the Bronx. The amateur pugilist seemed to be winning the maiden's affections. The result was a challenge, which culminated in the meeting arranged for. Both of the contestants were in fighting rig, with jackets and trousers pulled over the tightest of tights. They fought with bare knuckles. In the middle of the eighth round, when one of the fighters was almost out, the police broke in. Without making any effort to get into their street clothes both principals and all the others present hurried away. Boats had been kept waiting for just such an emergency. They bore many away, while others jumped into waiting automobiles or ran.

Big Auto Does Stunts.

The police are looking for a big red touring car that after a long chase early this morning crashed into an electric light pole, broke it squarely off at the base and escaped in the darkness. It was filled with a jovial party of men and women who, it was learned, had dined late at one of the Central park casinos. At an early hour this morning the party left the place and started up Broadway at a high rate of speed and ignored the warnings of the bicycle police. The chase began and the big machine was distancing its pursuers when at One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street it swerved and crashed into an electric light pole. The pole snapped off short and the electric lights went out. The machine lost a tire, but turning suddenly across One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street continued its flight and evaded its pursuers. All the clues the police have are the rubber tire and a few splinters of red painted wood.

New West Side Theater.

Intended for a first-class house, a new theater will be erected at once in West Sixty-fifth street, just off Broadway, thus carrying the amusement line still farther up town into the residential west side. The Broadway square at this point promises with this addition to become a promising theatrical center, as the Colonial theater, at the lower end, during its first season, which ended this summer, met with an encouraging response from west siders. The new theater will be known as the Arcade. The plans, which were filed today with the bureau of buildings, call for a four-story fireproof structure to cost $175,000. The seating capacity of the new house will be about 1,800. There will be the regulation orchestra circle, balcony and family circle. There will be three tiers of proscenium boxes, three on each side. The stage will be 65 feet wide, 40 feet deep and 35 feet high. The architects expect to have the theater completed by the middle of the winter or early spring at the latest.

A WOMAN BURBANK

Mrs. Shepherd's Success in Plant Breeding.

Mrs. Theodosia Shepherd of San Rafael, Cal., is considered a rival of Luther Burbank by reason of her successful experiments in producing hybrids by careful fertilization. She has devoted much energy to encouraging women to take up horticulture and her recent lecture before the woman's parliament of California called fresh attention to her achievements. The results of her work are described at length in the Boston Transcript, which secured the following interview from her:

As we walked in her gardens Mrs. Shepherd stooped and plucked three or four flowers which she said were originally petunias, though I did not recognize them.

"Speaking crudely, my daughter was the creator of these. That is to say, she did the mechanical work in the matter, and also made the intelligent selection of the flowers to be crossed and improved. These are the results of the planting of the new seed from her pollenizing. Of course, this does not mean that my daughter or anyone else could design or imagine such results as these."

Direction in Fertilizing.

"Beyond the mere mechanical realism, she desired certain results in color and form, and that leads me to another point, namely, that in all breeding proceeds the desire for success is the most important factor in the gaining of successful results. Because desire is a force, and the desire-force of the human is a part of the desire-force that underlies all. Through our desire an intelligent direction is given to the processes which cannot act, or will not act, except through co-operation and with assistance. Bees can convey pollen, but bees have worked for thousands of years without getting such fascinating results as these.

"Now, why is this? Why may a human's short period of work result in so much more than all the ages of merely mechanical fertilizing? My answer is that during the weeks of constant attention the concentrated desire for success on the part of the human influences the magic of Nature. We don't need to understand the process, but merely to work it. We use electricity without knowing what it is. In both cases we make use of a force of which we know practically nothing. If you told a savage of the marvels of electricity, he would probably tomahawk you; but you would be certain of your information; and so am I. In the breeding of new flowers, or in the creation of anything all we need is the knowledge as to how to use the process.

Preserving the Health of Plants.

"But one of the few things we know about electricity is that it is excessive vibration; that all life and health requires its presence; that when there is a loss of this excessive vibration there is illhealth, depression and sickness, that a sick man is a harp in a rainstorm, sadly tuneless; that all living things must be 'in tune' and 'at concert pitch.' Some people explain that the aphides are killing a rosetree, but my idea is that the aphides appear because of some inferior condition of the plant. They want a plant in which the vibratory conditions are less excessive than in complete health. Their presence is an evidence of the plant's sickness, for, in one sense, life, with its excessive vibration, is that which resists death. Worms soon appear in a dead carcass. But they did not kill the animal. They are a natural sequence of the fact that life, the power to resist death, has left the animal. You may have noticed that rose trees sometimes suffer greatly after being transplanted. They are alive, but so paralyzed that they sometimes do not recover for a long time. The aphides appear like a plague on them, not as a cause of ill-health, but evidencing the plant's loss of those excessive vibrations without which there is no complete health; and the same truths apply in different ways to all living things."

Learning What She Lost.

A very stout woman with a month's contract ran went into a butcher shop on Lancaster avenue and said, "Cut me 20 pounds of pork, please." The butcher was surprised at the large order, but weighed the piece and handed it to the woman for inspection. "Where shall I send it, madam?" he asked. "Oh," said the stout party, "I don't want it. You see, I've been to the seashore and have lost 20 pounds, and I only wanted to see how much it was." The butcher was angry, but he managed to say: "You were quite right, madam, when you reckoned the size in pork."—Philadelphia Record.

Changing Shirts.

There was a certain colonel who in the middle of the campaign was seized with a sudden ardor about hygiene. He ordered that all his men change their shirts at once. This order was duly carried out, except in the case of one company, where the privates' wardrobes had been sadly depleted. The captain of this company informed the colonel that none of his men could change their shirts, since they had only one apiece. The colonel hesitated a moment, then said firmly: "Orders must be obeyed. Let the men change shirts with each other."—Boston Herald.

The Fragrant Motorist.

Motorists are a very small fraction of the population and they all inflict some annoyance upon the population at large. The best of them cause smoke, smell and dust, while adding very appreciably to the tear and wear of the public's nerves. Smoke and smell are nuisances in town, and the clouds of dust extending for half a mile or more in the rear of a motor are a nuisance and often a danger in the country. If motorists could only be made to travel in their own dust their recreation would lose much of its attraction.—London Times.

SUNSHINE LAND.

They came in sight of a sunny shore,
Yellow as gold in the morning light;
The sun's own color at noon it wore,
And had fallen low at the fall of night.
Clear weather or cloudy, 'twas all as one,
The happy hills seemed bathed with the sun.
Its secret the sailors could not understand,
But they called it the country Sometime Land.

What was the secret? A simple thing
(It will make you smile when once you know):
Touching by the tender finger of spring,
A million blossoms were all aglow;
So many, so many, so small and bright,
They covered the hills with a mantle of light;
And the wild bee hummed and the glad birds sang,
Through the honeyed fields of Sometime Land.

If ever the sun we two were bound,
What port, dear child, would we choose for ours?
We would sail and sail, till at last we found
The fairy land of a million flowers.
Yes, darling, we'd find, if it lasted so long,
Of many small joys our pleasure to make
More near than we think, very close at hand,
Lie the golden fields of Sometime Land.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES

Predicts Cheap Meat Period.

"The cow may prove to be exceedingly profitable this year, and thus the outlook for cheap meats is unfavorable to the joy to the hearts of millions of people," said Lawrence J. Warren, a member of one of the large packing firms who passed through the city on the St. Louis Limited from New York to Kansas City last night. When he was asked whether the beef trust would consider the matter of a reduction of prices, even if the corn crop would be of a failure, he said there is every reason to believe that this action will be taken. "From the wonderful economies initiated against the packers, and from the people those statements have engendered," he said, "it is but natural for the public to think the packing firms are making all of legitimate, or even worse than that. It is a mistake, for the packers are human, but whose fear they have to contend on. That is the reason the beneficiaries have not been heralded with notes of praise, and the thing has been done at a big cost. The trusts are so far-reaching in their effect that it is idle to 'make faster money' by bringing accusations against them."

A Railroad Officer's Travels.

Something of the necessary amount of traveling done by a railroad operating officer is shown in the traveling of Gen. Supt. Atterbury of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west of the Pan for days. Mr. Atterbury went to Chicago Monday evening. After his arrival there he attended to numerous matters and then looked over some of the terminal lines. He came back to Pittsburgh last night, inspecting the road. A couple of hours in the office he turned out again, going to Cleveland. It is easy to see how a railroad or system of thousands of miles can be covered in a short time by those men of the rail. Mr. Atterbury was accompanied from Chicago by Assistant General L. L. Gilbert, and Chief Engineer Maintenance of Way Robert Trimble.

Homeless 25 Enjoy Gala Dinner.

Mirth and good-fellowship reigned at the July dinner of the Homeless Twenty-five last night at the Monongahela club, when almost all members of the organization gathered. The organization of homeless made No. 1 and the absence of absents by participation was the principal business conducted. The objection prevailed as follows: President, Col. Frank J. Rauch; vice president, Charles Speer; fire, city passenger agent of the Pennsylvania; secretary, L. B. Schmidt; treasurer, Harry Richardson, cashier of the Metropolitan bank. The board of directors was elected by ballot, but the result was not made public last night. Attorney W. A. Griffith acted as temporary chairman. Speeches were made by Col. Rauch, Mr. Griffith, Attorney J. A. Jordan, Mr. Nicholas A. M. Williams, O. C. Bellows and Hiram Shook. A telegram was received from Confederate Grammling, the homeless of a subordinate circle there with 27 charter members. Subscriptions about No. 1, which is located in Allegheny county, will occupy the former "Dutch Inn" building at C. Post avenue. The order has now 1,200 members in this country.

Running a Live Newspaper.

Fred Reetz and Burt Wells, managing and managing editor, respectively, of the New Castle News, one of the established dailies in Western Pennsylvania, came up to the city for a few hours last night to inspect the electric lights. Incidentally the youngsters from the Castle office and took a look at a real newspaper plant. They say when the New Castle News hustler boys run out this hot, when Reetz stepped on the broiler and Wells took the wheel, and "put" a few boats doing stunts as side issues, things that happened in New Castle recently found their way into print. An genuine hustlers in the journalistic field the News management certainly has developed a knack of "traveling some."

WILLIAM ANDERSON.

VETERAN WRITER IS CALLED HOME

William Anderson Who Served The Gazette for 60 Years Dies in Wilkinsburg.

HAD ILLUSTRIOUS CAREER

William Anderson, a veteran newspaperman, who for 60 years served The Pittsburgh Gazette in capacities ranging from "printer's devil" to editor-in-chief, died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at his home, No. 811 Holland avenue, Wilkinsburg. Mr. Anderson, who was nearly 78 years old, had retired from the newspaper profession three years ago, leaving behind an enviable record for integrity and ability. About a year ago he became ill and after spending the winter in Florida, returned much benefited. Last spring his former illness returned, becoming more acute each week, and during the last month death had been expected daily.

Mr. Anderson was the dean of Pittsburgh newspaper men. Sixty-five years ago he began his career on The Gazette as "printer's devil," when he was scarcely 12 years of age. From this humble position he rose to the office of editor-in-chief, and on May 31, 1902, retired, although while his health permitted, he frequently visited the office and recalled interesting reminiscences of the days when journalism was in its infancy. "Uncle Billy" was old enough to be the great-grandfather of the younger men on the staff, and between these youngsters and the white-haired editor an especial feeling of good fellowship existed.

Enters Upon Newspaper Work.

Mr. Anderson was born in Moon township on March 6, 1828. His parents were of Scotch-Irish ancestry and settled in Western Pennsylvania at the close of the revolutionary war. His father, William Anderson, married Miss Nancy Arnold and the future editor was their only son. The family moved to Allegheny in 1839 and the following year William, then a lad of 12 years, left school and entered the office of the Conference Journal as a roller boy, but soon afterward took the same position in the office of The Gazette, where he was employed seven years.

In the meantime he picked up a good education by reading the exchanges and such books as he found at home and in the libraries of his neighbors and friends. He was employed as a compositor on the old Christian Advocate and again returned to The Gazette. After 12 years at the case he took up reportorial work on The Gazette. For a time he was a member of the writing staff of the Daily Union and the True Press, but since these papers were short-lived, it was not long until he returned to The Gazette to become its city editor. Subsequently he was a member of the staff of the Dispatch, but in 1857 became city editor of the Commercial, and so continued until its consolidation with The Gazette in 1877. After doing special work for a year he was made editor-in-chief of the paper and remained so for nearly 20 years.

Knew Many Leading Men.

Mr. Anderson in his influential position as editor of the leading Whig organ of the west and later destined to fight many battles for the Republican party, had the acquaintance of the leading men of his time. On the night of his retirement, when he gathered around the banquet table at the Hotel Duquesne with his colleagues of The Gazette, he made an interesting address, in which he related many interesting reminiscences of his work. Its story of three-score years in journalism tells graphically of the vicissitudes of the pioneer editors.

"I have as boy and man," said Mr. Anderson, "spent full 60 years in a printing office. I was 'roller boy' in 1840 when the daily edition of The Gazette was worked on a hand press at a speed of say 250 copies an hour for one side of a sheet, or two papers. The other side was finished some hours later at the same rapid rate, and after being folded, the papers were ready for mailing. Circulation was estimated by tens of thousands in those days. Think of the old hand press and the present machine, which now throws off with lightning rapidity the various editions of The Gazette.

Triumphs of Republicanism.

"I have seen Neville B. Craig retire in the early 40s, and 'Deacon' White, as he was familiarly called, was in full control of the paper. Mr. White was a man of few words, and it was agreed that I should assume the new duties of reporter. His instructions I well remember: 'Write facts, use plain English, and when you have done that—stop. If any opinions are necessary I will supply them through the editorial columns.'

"The rise and fall of the Whigs and the organization and speedy triumph of the Republican party were the great political movements which I witnessed during my career. The aggressions of the slave power had aroused national indignation, and the anti-slavery champions were forced to make common cause against the further extension of a hated and blighting institution. Horace Greeley and Henry J. Raymond of New York, Salmon P. Chase and Joshua R. Giddings of Ohio, with many others who might be named, laid the groundwork for the organization of a national party which scored its first triumph in the election of Abraham Lincoln.

"The Gazette was a potent factor in the upbuilding of the party, and under such stalwart writers as D. N. White, Josiah Copley, Russell Errett and others, made the 'state of Allegheny' famous throughout the land. The Gazette has been an open book, known and read of all men, for lo! these many years, and amid changing circumstances its managers have never ceased to keep it steadily active in the support of the principles and policies of the Republican party."

Handling Lincoln's Speech.

Mr. Anderson was an all-around newspaper man. He served for a long time as court reporter and in this work secured a good knowledge of law. In his day trifling occurrences and "feature stories," such as are worked up into striking scareheads, were seldom handled and the good reporter was obliged to qualify in a thorough knowledge of politics. One of Mr. Anderson's proofs of his standing as a legal reporter was his handling of the famous Lincoln speech, which was made on the balcony of the Monongahela house in February, 1861, when Lincoln was on his way to Washington. Mr. Lincoln's speech on this occasion became a classic and is frequently quoted from by orators who wish to pay Pittsburgh its highest compliment. Mr. Anderson wrote the speech longhand and furnished his paper with a faithful report of that epoch-making gathering, which soon was to have its bloody sequel in the opening of hostilities between the north and the south at Fort Sumter.

Mr. Anderson was twice married. His first bride was Miss Malazena Wallace, daughter of Robert Wallace of Lawrenceville. They were married in 1850. Mrs. Anderson died in 1877, leaving eight children. Mr. Anderson's second wife was Miss Caroline A. Nimon, who survives him. He is also survived by the following children of his first wife: W. W. Anderson, J. B. Anderson, E. C. Anderson, Mrs. R. W. Haven, Mrs. B. F. Haven, Mrs. E. G. Edrington and Mrs. Charles Highberger.

BIG CONCERNS IN DEATH GRIP

INVENTOR CHARGES FRAUD

A fight between two corporations with large capital to control the Holtman patents, automatic devices to avert railway disasters and collisions, has led to the inventor filing a cross-bill in court of common pleas No. 2 asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the assets of the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company; that the assets be decreed to be a trust fund for the benefit of creditors; that the court decree the plaintiff to be the sole owner of the Holtman devices, excepting such interests as defendants, Nickolaus Schmidt, Charles Bergman, W. Korbs and J. F. Butler may have; that certain stock be issued as full paid and non-assessable, excepting $315,000 worth, which he asks be decreed as fraudulently delivered, outstanding and assessable stock.

The cross-bill was filed yesterday by Attorney T. L. Gartner on behalf of Charles F. Holtman against the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company, J. Kingsley Burnett, G. C. Buell, C. E. Locke, Jr., Fred. Sermin and William J. Wallace.

Holtman says that the International Security manufacturing and Supply Company and other defendants filed their bill of complaint against him pleading with the Holtman Automatic Signal Company, a corporation, A. L. Schultz, Guy F. Thurber, Leonard Rauwolf and Ephriam Truxall, alleging, among other things, that the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company was the lawful owners of the Charles F. Holtman devices or patents; that no assignment of the title to the patents had been made; that capital stock aggregating $500,000 and upward had been allotted and offered to stockholders; that the plaintiff and others had signed agreements; that in December, 1904, the Holtman Automatic Signal Company was organized for the purpose of operating the Holtman devices and that the co-defendants were stockholders in that corporation; that the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company needs equitable relief and in the bill prayed among other things, that Holtman and the Holtman Automatic Signal Company be restrained from manufacturing or operating the devices in question and that they be compelled to assign their patents to the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company.

Says Burnett Made Proposals.

Holtman alleges that he is the inventor of certain automatic devices for the prevention of railway accidents and collisions. He then relates a number of transfers of interests in his patents and states that in January, 1903, J. K. Burnett represented to him that he was in a position to organize, underwrite and finance corporations, to take over new inventions and make merchantable commodities out of the same. He further represented, the bill states, that if the plaintiff would enter into an agreement with him authorizing the organization of a company to manufacture and sell the inventions, he would furnish all the required capital. He signed an agreement to that effect. Nickolaus Schmidt and William J. Wilkins joining in the same.

Holtman says he since learned that Burnett could not furnish the capital and he charges that he obtained his signature to this agreement as a part of a scheme to impoverish him and get his devices or his interest in them without paying value therefor. He claims that Burnett practiced fraud and deception upon the plaintiff and his neglect to comply with the terms of this agreement renders it null and void.

Holtman then says that Burnett promoted the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company, with a capital stock of $500,000; that the company, being a foreign corporation established and maintained an office in Pittsburgh, where it transacted business, without having first complied with the laws of Pennsylvania; that this corporation under the law has no legal status to institute or join in the proceedings, and the plaintiff objects to the court taking jurisdiction.

Misrepresentation Is Claimed.

Holtman then states that he entered into an agreement with the other defendants to issue $385,000 worth of the capital stock of this company, he to receive $50,000 paid-up, and an additional $600 for his interest in the devices, the remaining $315,000 to be paid for at face value to finance the company. He says he is a German, cannot understand articles of agreement prepared in the English language, and when they were presented to him to sign it was represented they embodied the terms as he understood them. He now claims that a misrepresentation was practiced upon him, and that he was induced to sign a different agreement than had been verbally understood. He claims the $315,000 was allotted to the other defendants gratis; that in accepting the stock they did it in fraud of the rights of the corporation and of the plaintiff, and are indebted to the corporation in that amount. He claims the corporation is indebted to him in several small amounts, and charges that the corporation is insolvent and unable to pay its debts; that it has no money with which to pay or no means of raising funds to meet indebtedness, and that there is imminent danger of the assets of the corporation being dissipated by suits.

The plaintiff claims the $315,000 was a charge for the promotion of the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company, and for such service is outrageous and fraudulent. On the other hand he says that the Holtman Automatic Signal Company was organized under the laws of the District of Columbia for the purpose of operating these devices, was legally licensed to transact business in the state and expended a large sum of money in promoting the use of the devices, on information from persons interested in the International Security Manufacturing and Supply Company that it had abandoned the project.

Holtman asks the court to compel the defendants to answer the cross-bill, to appoint a receiver, declare the papers he signed null and void because of fraud, and to ascertain the respective interests of others in his patents.

Hohenstein Enters Denials.

An answer was filed by Isaac Hohenstein to a rule requiring him to show cause why he should not pay Attorney S. J. Hibbs $125 for counsel and stenographer fees in lunacy proceedings against Mrs. Hohenstein, who is said to be in Dixmont. He denies any debt to Hibbs and declares he appeared at the lunacy proceedings of his own accord. Attorney J. F. Buchanan, he says, was his attorney. Prior to the lunacy case Hohenstein had entered a divorce suit. Mrs. Hohenstein's mental condition was brought up, and Hohenstein says that he told the lawyers that if his domestic troubles were due to his wife's mental state he would drop the divorce case. This he did on Attorney Buchanan's advice, paying Hibbs $25 for his services. Without authority from him, he says, Hibbs represented Mrs. Hohenstein in the lunacy proceedings. Hohenstein also says that at Hibbs' advice a suit for assault and battery and surety of peace was entered against him for trouble growing out of his domestic affairs, and the court refused to hear the case on account of the lunacy proceedings.

Dredging Companies in Controversey.

Suit to recover $1,000 has been entered by the Pittsburgh Dredging and Construction Company against the Western Dredging Company. The parties to this suit are those which had a suit in the United States circuit court over a dredging contract for the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company. In the case entered yesterday the plaintiff claims that the defendant offered to pay $1,000 to settle all matters in dispute; that the offer was accepted, but that the money was not paid.

E. Walter Alderman and Florence E. Alderman filed an answer to the equity suit of George W. Sherman for the reconveyance of property. They allege the plaintiff made the conveyance to Alderman for the sole purpose of defrauding his creditors, and the defendants allege that the plaintiff's demand for the return of the property is for the purpose of consummating the fraud he had planned before the conveyance.

United States District Attorney John W. Dunkle, United States Marshal Stephen P. Stone and Deputy Marshal J. H. Irons have arrived home from Erie. The only case that came before the court was that of the Backer Oil Company against the Erie Railroad Company. It was an action for damages for a lot of oil wells destroyed by fire from a spark from a locomotive. Over 200 witnesses were subpenaed in the case. After the case was given to the jury the plaintiffs took an involuntary nonsuit, it is said, when most of the oil company's witnesses saw the fire on its right of way, and it is said the oil company's attorneys were afraid that the case would be carried to the court of appeals, so they asked that it be withdrawn from the jury. After the attorneys had taken their non-suit it was learned that the jury stood 9 to 3 in favor of the oil company.

Injunction Is Dissolved.

Common pleas court No. 2 dissolved the injunction granted in the equity suit of the Turtle Creek Electric Light, Heat and Power Company against the Rose Hill Electric Light Company to restrain the defendant from erecting its wires and poles too near those of the plaintiff. The court found that the defendant's wires and poles must be erected at least two feet away from the plaintiff's.

Judge Young granted a decree in divorce in the suit of Joseph A. Steele against Grace Steele. Infidelity was alleged.

The Pennsylvania Casualty Company filed a bill in equity against W. S. MacPherran to prevent him from acting as its agent. They allege they had an agreement with him, which, they aver, he broke.

Clara E. Dull sued the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad for $5,000 damages. She avers the conductor refused to accept her ticket and had her turned over to a policeman at the Pittsburgh station when the train came in. She said she paid her fare after being detained for 10 minutes. She says the ticket was a two-day ticket, was bought January 8 last and the return coupon presented on January 10.

Assets Include Scarf Pin.

With total assets aggregating $56 50 including two cheap watches, four suits of clothes, a $3 50 scarf pin and $11 50 worth of household goods, John Moore and Charles D. Wilson of Erie, Pa., individually and as partners, under the name of Moore & Wilson, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. The liabilities of the partners are placed at $500.

Muscle Making As a Business

Today the Trained Athlete Makes His Living Out of His Muscle and His Skill.

"Time was when the trained athlete was not highly regarded as an associate," says one writer. "But nowadays," he continues, "we find the desire to be athletic creeping into our homes, and even our wives and daughters have caught the fever. College men often work their way through—pay their way—by dint of their brawn." True it is and today America stands at the head as a race, swift, energetic, wholesome. The American citizen makes the best soldier—the stanchest, sturdiest soldier. He can stand more trouble and fatigue than the professional soldiers of other countries and it is because he is a "Wheat-eater."

Wheat has in it all of the elements of the human body. Wheat makes meat. Hutchison, the great British food expert, says that proteids, water and a little mineral salt will build tissue and nothing else will. Wheat is rich in proteids, almost 11 per cent, and Malta-Vita makes muscle. Malta-Vita also makes blood, bone and nerve force, because it is all of the wheat and prepared in such a way that it is quickly absorbed by the blood.

In training quarters for college athletes whole wheat is recognized as of great value. Robert Uterbach, manager of the Drake University athletic association, in speaking of this said: "I take pleasure in indorsing Malta-Vita, which we used with first-class results at our football training table. In nutrition and consistency we found Malta-Vita to be the best food for our use."

That is because Malta-Vita is the whole of the wheat and rich in proteids, which Hutchison says can alone build up and repair tissue. The manufacture of Malta-Vita is an extended and elaborated process. The whole wheat grain is cleaned of its husk, then boiled in water, cooked in steam to gelatinize the starch, then allowed to stand in coolers (where it is carefully watched by an expert) just long enough to allow the gelatinized starch cells to break down, then it is treated with barley malt instead of sugar, as the barley malt and the gelatinized starch make "maltose" or malt sugar—highly nutritious and most easily digested. Thus Malta-Vita is scientifically prepared to meet the requirements of the trained athlete and the convalescent. To each it gives strength, blood, bone and muscle, and in either's stomach it is ready to be taken up by the blood without taxing the digestive ferments. Malta-Vita is now 10 cents per package, the same big package you used to buy for 15 cents.

A Sign

of poor blood circulation is shortness of breath after walking, going up stairs, sweeping, singing, excitement, anger, fright, etc. Poor blood circulation means a sick heart, and a sick heart is a result of weak and impoverished nerves.

Every one knows the results of poor blood circulation, but everybody does not know that the quickest and safest treatment is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

If you find these symptoms present, you should procure a bottle of

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure

It will cure, and at a very little expense, compared with doctor's bills. We are so sure of it, that if first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money.

"My husband had palpitation of the heart very bad, doctored with physicians, who failed to help him. He took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, and is entirely cured."

Semi-annual Remnant Day Tomorrow—Friday.

How and why we came to originate Remnant Day.

36 years ago this store was started—soon after, we found the Remnants accumulating—tieing up much needed capital. Soon found out another thing—Friday was the dullest day of the week. We decided to make Remnant Day—and made it on Friday. That first Remnant Day was small compared with what they are now—but it won—did the work—sold the Remnants. We then decided to make semi-annual Remnant Day—January and July, and have done so ever since. We believe we do this Remnant Day business better than it's done anywhere, both as to the way it's done and to prices.

Every Remnant of every kind and description is carefully measured up—ticketed with yards and price on each remnant in plain figures—put on in red ink—so that people can see and tell at a glance all about it—and practically wait on themselves.

Not only Remnants, but every dress length of Dress Goods up to 10 yards and Silks up to 18 yards—and everything else ready to wear or for the home—odd items or surplus lots useful and ornamental in every department of the house from the top to the bottom, red ink priced down to the Remnant Day basis that has made this store's Remnant Day reputation.

1905 stocks have been larger than ever and more fine goods sold—therefore more Remnants to be sold.

They will be so red inked—as well as everything else—this time as to make this the greatest Remnant Day the store ever made—that it will pay every woman within a radius of 100 miles and pay her well—to get to this Remnant sale.

PRINCIPAL INDUSTRY OF BLAIRSVILLE DESTROYED

Fire Wipes Out in Two Hours the Enamel Ware Plant of the Kellogg McCrum-Howells Company.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, July 26.—A fire in Blairsville this morning completely destroyed the chief industry in that place, caused a loss of $75,000 and threw 300 men out of employment.

The plant of the Kellogg McCrum-Howells Company, manufacturers of porcelain enamel ware, stored with many tons of raw and finished materials was the fuel of the flames. The fire started at 2 o'clock this morning, and in two hours the whole structure was in ruins. The origin of the flames is unknown.

The main offices of the company are in New York. It is believed in Blairsville that the plant will be rebuilt. Several hundred finished tubs, piled on the outside of the burned building, were all that was saved.

WILL REGARD ACTION AS A GREAT HONOR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., July 26.—If the coming Democratic state convention indorses the candidacy of Supreme Court Justice Stewart next month the recipient will regard the honor as one of enviable distinction. Justice Stewart so declared today to one of the delegates from Franklin county, George S. Reisner, who asked him his feeling in the matter.

Justice Stewart replied: "This is a very delicate question indeed, and all that I can say in reply is this: No higher compliment could be paid a candidate than this indorsement by the opposite party. If my name should be placed on the Democratic state ticket, the result being a unanimous election, would in itself be an enviable distinction."

BENNINGTON READY TO BE TOWED TO NAVY YARD

Wrecked Gunboat Afloat and Admiral Goodrich Begins His Inquiry Into Causes Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN DIEGO, CAL., July 26.—The gunboat Bennington is again afloat on an even keel and it will be towed by the Iris to the Mare Island navy yard at San Francisco to be thoroughly examined and repaired.

Admiral Goodrich is expected to arrive on his flagship tonight or early tomorrow when an official investigation of the disaster will be begun.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—The steam log of the Bennington covering the quarter ending June 30, which came to the department yesterday, was carefully scanned by the officials today, but no statement was forthcoming.

It was stated at the navy department today that the transfers of bodies of those who perished on the Bennington to the homes of relatives will be made as rapidly as possible, but that some delays must necessarily be expected since there are certain health regulations to be complied with in the cases of bodies already buried. An appropriation is available for such transportation.

CITY LOSES FEES.

It develops that all the fees collected by police magistrates are not turned into the city treasury. Magistrates Moke of Central station and the South Side magistrate admit that the fees collected for furnishing prisoners or their friends with transcripts of cases or granting releases are turned over to the sergeants at the stations, instead of being sent to the mayor's office with the fines and costs.

A fee of 50 cents is collected on each transcript when a case is appealed to the county court, and a similar amount is said to be collected when a prisoner is granted a release when his fine is paid after he has been committed to jail or to the workhouse.

Magistrate Kane of the Lawrenceville district is said to be the only magistrate that turns in these fees to the city. He says a magistrate is not entitled to a cent more than his yearly salary of $2,000.

Mr. Normecutt was one of the youngest, yet perhaps the most earnest Republican worker of the Nineteenth ward, and held a prominent place in the ranks of the Republican party in this city. He was born and reared in the Sixth ward, Pittsburgh, and was educated in the common and high schools. After graduating from the high school he entered commercial life, forming the firm of McCall & Normecutt, live stock commission merchants, at the East Liberty stock yards. He then entered the department of public works and was finally made chief clerk of the bureau of highways and sewers, which position he held until some four years ago, when he became connected with the Safe Deposit and Trust Company, where he rose from the position of clerk to that of secretary. Mr. Normecutt never married and made his home with his brother Enoch at 123 Flavel street. With him at the time of his death were his two sisters, who immediately telegraphed his brothers, Enoch and William Normecutt, when it was known that he was sinking, but they arrived too late.

On Guard With Hose.

In order to prevent the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company from laying a crossing at West street, Homestead, officials of the borough have stationed a guard there and a number of men are always ready with a hose to turn a stream on the railroad workmen, should they start work. The watchman has been given instructions to turn the water on as soon as he sees any of the railroad employes tearing up the street.

HELLO GIRLS LEAVE MANY BEAUX BEHIND

Too Many Escorts Make Things Embarrassing at Big Steamboat Excursion.

People who last night wondered why they did not hear their customary "hello" at the telephone should have visited the Monongahela wharf at 8 o'clock when the Francis J. Torrance swung away from her moorings. On the decks of the steamer they would have seen 500 happy girls in white, surrounded by an equal number of proud swains. At the same time on shore stood several hundred men wearing long faces. The predicament of the latter was enough to break anybody's heart—the big boat got away and the would-be escorts were left behind.

It was all a very neat compliment to the girls who say "hello." When the telephone company planned the outing on the river it was stated that young men would be cheerfully admitted. The logical supposition was that the gallants who would apply would be equal to the number of girls, but when the boat started it was found that there were so many that the steamer would founder if all were taken on board, and the signal to start was given, while many generous youngsters were left on shore. Some of the girls were sorely disappointed, but the rules of the boat are inexorable.

It was a jolly time the girls had. They shouted "hello" quite involuntarily and danced with glee to the music which never ceased. Three happy hours were spent on the river, and all the swains who had been left behind had disappeared. The next time the "hello" girls take an excursion, it will be necessary to make room for three times their number of escorts.

BABES IN THE WOODS FOUND ALIVE AND WELL

BALTIMORE, MD., July 26.—On Sunday last, while Joseph Cohen, wife and children were picnicking on the banks of Stony creek in Anne Arundel county, near this city, his two little daughters, Lena and Sophia, aged 5 and 7 years, wandered into the woods and were lost. Today the girls were found sitting on the bank of a stream, alive and well. The children had nothing to eat since Sunday, except wild strawberries.

EX-COLLEGE PITCHER AGAIN SHOWS FINE SKILL

WILLIS' CURVES SUIT PIRATES

Clarke's Crew Land on Boston Twirler in Eighth and Score Enough Runs to Win.

HILLEBRAND PITCHES WELL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, July 26.—Pittsburgh slaughtered the hapless Tenneyites again today, 8 to 2 being the final score. The game was good until the eighth, both Hillebrand and Willis using a jump ball that kept the hits in the air, but after the locals had tied the score in their lucky seventh, the Pirates fell upon the Delaware peach and ate him with cream.

Hillebrand, of Princeton's famous family, forced admiration from Boston fans. The column of assists shows how he kept forcing the locals to bat up flies. Of Boston's seven hits, three were mere scratches. Harry Wolverton was called to Wooster, O., by the probably mortal illness of his mother, and Lauterborn played third for Boston.

After Pittsburgh had gone out in order Abbatitchio led off with a fine double in the first for Boston, and Tenney sacrificed him to third, but on Dolan's rap to Howard he was thrown out at the plate. Dolan stole second and Delahanty walked, but Hillebrand forced Lauterborn to put up a fly to Wagner.

With two out in the second Dave Brain clouted a single to center, but was caught at second on an attempt to steal while Willis held the ball. Rain began falling while Raymer was striking out in Boston's half and the two policemen provided by the local management could not prevent the bleacherites from fighting their way into the covered stand. The shower soon ceased.

Pittsburgh went out in order in the third, Raymer going off his feet to take Hillebrand's liner, which he timed prettily. Boston went out in order also. Raymer's fumble gave Beaumont a life in the fourth, but Murphy's throw nipped him at second. This was a pity, for action followed. Clarke walked, and a passed ball sent him to second. When Leach singled he romped home and Leach reached second on the throw-in. Wagner's grounder took the luckiest of bounds over "Batty's" head and Cannell fumbled the ball. Leach scored and Wagner went to third by a sprint and a mad slide. A double play with Batty on the business end closed the inning, but Pittsburgh was two runs to the good.

Hillebrand had everything in Boston's half and again the Hubites went out in order. Singles by Peitz and Hillebrand went for nothing in the fifth. A small atom in the path of Clarke's easy grounder on it naughty bounce into Batty's face when the sixth began. The incident so upset Willis that he hurled the ball almost into the grand stand and Clarke crept to second. Leach fanned. Wagner hit safe to left and Beaumont foolishly held his captain at third, although Delehanty was in the act of throwing the ball to second instead of home. For the second time Willis spiked Howard with the ball, but a double play followed on Brain's foolish bounce to Willis. The top three of Boston's batting order put up gentle flies. In between long flies to Dolan, Peitz smote for a double in the seventh, but Beaumont went out, short to first.

The Bostons tied it up. Beaumont's speed was all that saved him in front of Delehanty's smash, but having arrived he should have stopped it. Instead the ball rolled on and Dolan tore to third. Cannell was safe on his dump in front of Peitz, and the hit and run found Ritchey too far out of position to throw home, though he got Raymer at first. Moran followed with a two-base hit. Willis filed to Ritchey. The score.

Boston's joy was short lived. Clarke opened the eighth with a double, and when Wagner hit to Lauterborn the latter tried for Clarke at third, getting neither man. Howard's double scored Wagner and Brain's two-bagger put Howard on third. Peitz singled, scoring both runners. Hillebrand slammed one safe and Beaumont followed suit, while Peitz walked home. Lauterborn failed to smother Dolan's throw and Hillebrand cross the pan. Six runs and enough. Score:

SOCIETY

A GARDEN party was held last night on the grounds of the Pittsburgh Field club in Braddock avenue, East End, in honor of the visiting men and women attending the cricket tournament which opened last Saturday and will continue throughout the week. It was "ladies night" and the women members of the club and their friends turned out to add to the gayety of the occasion. The long club house porch was prettily decorated with bunting in the Field club colors, Oxford blue and white, the spaces between the supporting pillars each being filled with a trio of gorgeous Japanese lanterns. Lanterns and electric lights appeared about the grounds and during the evening the young people danced on the green to the music of the orchestra stationed on the porch. In compliment to the visiting cricket teams from Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland, their colors and pennants floated from the club house roof.

The garden party was conducted informally and it was exceedingly pretty, the women wearing fetching white and daintily colored gowns with picturesque big hats. The fantastic lighting of the grounds, the bewitching beauty of the dance on the lawn, the deep shadows of the trees bordering the green and the uncertain gray outlines of the Lovejoy mansion looming up at one side all added to the charm of the evening entertainment.

Mrs. W. B. Hambly and Mrs. William M. Ruth planned the party and received informally last evening, assisted by Mrs. George Sheppard, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Thomas Rickey, Miss Murray, Miss Lloyd, Miss Maple, Miss McCann, Miss Ruth and Miss Parvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields and their family will leave on Saturday for Europe, intending to be abroad several months.

The wedding of Miss Frances Skrak and Charles E. Shane of Kittanning, both deaf-mutes, occurred last evening, the Rev. John M. Moore of Chicago officiating. The marriage ceremony was interpreted by Miss Jennie Shroun, the interpreter for the deaf in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church.

CLUBS

Mothers' Meeting in O'Hara School.

Almost every nationality among the inhabitants of the Seventeenth ward had a representative yesterday afternoon at the first mothers' meeting held this summer in the O'Hara school, Smallman and Twenty-fifth streets, Lawrenceville. There were Germans, Italians and Swedes, and in the score of mothers of the children who are attending the summer playgrounds and vacation schools were two colored mothers of the neighborhood. The meeting was an exceptionally enjoyable one, some of the mothers having attended those held during the past two summers, and they assisted the women of the committee in assisting others who were strangers at home. The office of the school building was decorated with flowers, the piano was brought in from the hall and the room was made very cosy and homelike in appearance. There the committee, composed of Mrs. George Rubhorn, Mrs. James C. Dick, Mrs. Lucian O. Livingston and Mrs. William Macurm, received, assisted by other members of the committee, including Mrs. John M. L'Amoux, Mrs. Gertrude C. Cooke, Mrs. Albert Darrow, Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. T. P. Henderson and Mrs. George C. Webb. A musical program was presented by Mrs. Mary Scott, Miss Reisfar, Miss Ellis and Mrs. Mason. Willis J. Teher gave recitations from several of James Whitcomb Riley's poems, and then refreshments were served.

After the informal program was concluded the members of the committee and the teachers in the playground and vacation school took the mothers into the room just back of the office, where an very interesting exhibition of the work of the children was held. A number of the women carried their babies with them. The exhibition included the work in pottery and clay modeling, in carpentry the boys showing small brackets, waste baskets, coat racks and small stools and benches, and art and nature work.

Visitors Throng Block House.

Since the first of July the visitors who have registered at the old block house at the Point have numbered over 1,200. Yesterday there was a steady stream of people attracted to the place, and before the middle of the afternoon more than 100 people had shown their interest in the historic little redoubt near the junction of the Allegheny and the Monongahela rivers. Work is being pushed on the custodian's house which is being erected on Penn avenue, and before the middle of August Mrs. Mary Golden, the caretaker of the block house, will be installed in her new home. Until the house is finished and the rubbish is cleared away from about it the present fence surrounding the block house will not be changed. The custodian house has four rooms, a narrow hall and stairway separating the two rooms on the first floor and leading to the floor above, where is a bath in addition to two sleeping rooms. The kitchen door opens upon a small back porch, from which several steps will lead down to the level of the block house. Mrs. Golden, who has made her home ever since she was married 25 years ago in the little house at the rear of the block house, intends to have vines and flowers growing about the back porch. Her old home will be torn down by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as soon as her new home is finished and she has moved into it.

Exhibition of Children's Summer Work.

The joint committee of women's clubs for the Allegheny summer playgrounds and vacation schools has sent out invitations for the annual exhibition of the summer work of the children, which will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 2, 3 and 4, and on the following Monday and Tuesday, August 7 and 8, from 9 o'clock until 12 each morning. The individual exhibitions in the different school buildings will be held as follows: August 2, Eighth and Twelfth ward playgrounds and vacation schools; August 3, Chestnut street, Third ward, and the East street, Tenth ward, schools; August 4, Spring Garden avenue, Seventh ward. Friday will also be the last flower day of the season in all the schools. On Monday, August 7, the Fifth and Ninth ward playgrounds and vacation schools will have their exhibitions, and August 8 the Sherman and Irwin avenue schools in the Second ward. The exhibitions will include the work of the children in the basketry, sewing, millinery, art and nature classes and the kindergartens. Patriotic exercises will be held, drills presented and games played, and there will be both vocal and instrumental music in each school. In the Third ward school the kitchen garden class will illustrate its work. The daily attendance in the summer playgrounds and vacation schools in Allegheny has been much larger this year than ever before, the attendance keeping up an average of 3,000.

Meeting for Thanksgiving.

The United Presbyterian Women's association will meet this afternoon in the Third United Presbyterian church, Diamond street, from 2 until 4 o'clock. CHAUTAUQUA.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 26.—(Special.)—The amphitheater presented an attractive appearance with its simple decorations of American flags and each of the 200 members of the children's choir bearing a small flag, when an audience of 4,000 assembled for the patriotic exercises held to commemorate the interment of the remains of Capt. John Paul Jones. About 150 D. A. R.s and S. A. R.s marched in a body to the hall. Bishop John H. Vincent made the address.

Later in the afternoon a reception was given by the local circle of D. A. R.s in the Hotel Athenaeum for the visiting D. A. R.s from Buffalo, Westfield, Jamestown and Fredonia.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley in his humorous negro dialect recital elicited bursts of applause from the large southern portion of the audience when he said that the southerners knew better how to handle the negro question than did the northerners who insist upon interfering, and again when he spoke of the numerous crimes committed by the southern negro of today which were unheard of in the old days of slavery.

The formal opening of the new athletic clubhouse took place at 4 o'clock this afternoon when the house was thrown open for inspection. Mr. George L. Vincent and Mr. James T. Horgan made a few remarks for the club. A bowling match between the athletic club and the officers of the institution took place in the evening.

The Rev. W. P. Turner, who has spent many years in Japan, gave an interesting personal version of what he saw and learned in Japan.

A Phi Kappa Psi banquet was held at the Hotel Athenaeum in the evening.

John Graw's Serious Fall.

John Graw, aged 34 and single, is in the Allegheny General hospital with both arms broken and severe cuts about the head and body. He is not expected to recover. While working for Philip Carey's Asbestos Company in Clairton yesterday he fell from a scaffold.

INITIAL DIVIDEND FOR ERIE SECOND PREFERRED

The Stock Advanced to the Highest Price on Record and Was the Feature of a Dull Market. Local Stocks Averaged Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The Erie railroad directors yesterday afternoon declared a dividend of 4 per cent on the second preferred stock, payable in two installments of 2 per cent each in October next and in April, 1906. The regular 2 per cent semi-annual dividend was also declared on the first preferred stock. Both issues advanced to the highest prices of record and were the active features of a dull market. The activity and strength of the second preferred, which advanced to 75 and closed at the top, prepared traders for some favorable action by the directors, but a dividend of 4 per cent was rather more than was looked for. Last year was the first since the reorganization of the company that the full dividend was paid on the first preferred, and now that the second preferred is placed upon the same basis is a pleasant surprise. The common stock did not reach its former high record scored last week, but it was active and closed at a net gain of 1½ per cent for the day.

This dividend on Erie second preferred had more effect upon the market than other increased dividends that have been announced during the past few weeks. Its general effect is also likely to be more widespread, because it may be cited as reflecting the opinion of the directors on the outlook for business. Pennsylvania was also firmer and closed ¾ per cent higher for the day. Reading gained a small fraction, while Baltimore & Ohio closed unchanged.

The remainder of the railroad list was extremely dull, but strengthened late in the day and closing prices showed more gains than losses. The southern group of stocks held firm despite the reports of an increase in the number of yellow fever cases in New Orleans, and the government report revising previous estimates of the cotton acreage. The latter was estimated at 23,947,312 acres, a decrease of 4,192,8-8 acres, or 14.9 per cent, compared with the government estimate of June 2 last. The cotton market had apparently discounted the showing, and reacted sharply, but Illinois Central, Southern Railway and Rock Island held firm and closed slightly higher for the day. Missouri Pacific was helped by the splendid increase in gross earnings for the third week in July and closed a fraction higher. With the exception of St. Paul, which lost a fraction, all the granger stocks ruled steady to firm and closed higher.

Trading in the U. S. Steel stocks was quieter than usual, indicating that the quarterly report was about as expected. The common stock opened a shade lower, while the preferred opened ⅛ per cent higher, a perfectly logical movement in view of the policy of the directors in setting aside out of the earnings remaining after the payment of depreciation, fixed charges and preferred dividend, the sum of $8,500,000 for special improvements. This policy suggests that not only will the working capital be increased before dividends are resumed on the common stock, but that the physical condition of the plant will be steadily improved.

Amalgamated Copper advanced in the late dealings and closed ⅝ per cent higher for the day. American Smelting also closed ⅝ per cent higher. The remainder of the industrial list was quiet but steady.

Call loan rates remained easy at 1¾ to 2 per cent. Foreign government securities were higher on the increasing prospects for peace between Russia and Japan. Grain markets closed lower on better crop prospects.

On the local stock exchange there was a subsidence of the activity in Pittsburgh Coal stocks. There were no transactions in the common, which closed at 12¾ bid, 12¾ asked. On sales of less than 100 shares the preferred declined to and closed at 45¼, two shares changing hands at 45, the previous low record price of the year. At the close there was a rally to 45¾ bid regular, and 46⅛ was bid for 500 shares buyer 60 days. River Coal preferred rallied a fraction to 22¼. U. S. Steel stocks were very dull but closed a shade higher. Late in the session a little selling movement appeared in Crucible Steel preferred and that stock declined to and closed at 61½. The common declined to and closed at 10¾ bid. National Fire Proofing was firmer, advancing to 8 for the common and to 30 for the preferred. Lustre Mining was the most active stock in the market, and advanced to and closed at 33⅜, the highest ever quoted. United Copper rallied 1½ per cent to 32 and closed at that price bid. A small lot of Westinghouse Electric sold at 82¾, a loss of ¼. Air Brake was quoted at 145 bid. Natural gas stocks were a little more active and firmer. In the bond list Independent Brewing 8s and Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s each lost ¼ per cent, but closed with a fair demand at the decline.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Stock market was less active and prices averaged lower.	Initial dividend declared on Erie second preferred stock.
Lustre Mining a strong feature, selling at 33¾, a new high price.	This issue and the first preferred advanced to new high prices.
Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to 45¼ and recovered to 45¾.	Steel common closed unchanged and the preferred a half point higher.
Fireproofing common and preferred rallied fractionally and closed steady.	General market was less active, but the tone was firm at the close.
United Copper rallied to and closed at 32, sales and bid.	Sales included 321,200 shares stock and $1,370,000 bonds.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The sales of Pittsburgh Coal preferred on the local board yesterday fell below 100 shares, the smallest total for any day since the suspension of the dividend. The price range was between 45 and 46, but only small lots changed hands at both extremes. The final sale was at 45¾, but the closing bid was 45⅝. The comparative smallness of the transactions, and the withdrawal of offers to sell when the price displayed a rallying tendency, are taken as evidence that the pressure of liquidation is over, for the present at least. The head of a house which has been one of the largest traders in the stock during the past two years, yesterday expressed the opinion that the short interest is larger than at any time in the history of the company. He said the shorts were very confident of covering their contracts at much lower prices, but he expressed the opinion that any movement to cover around the current level would result in a sharp recovery. Just before the close of the market yesterday a trader bid 45⅛ for 500 shares buyer 30 days, but there were no offerings. The New Yorkers who last month bought the stock freely above 50 are feeling sore over the outcome of their speculation, but if they felt so disposed they could make it very uncomfortable for the short interest.

The most active local stock was Luster, which reached a new high record. Sproul & Co. were large sellers on the advance, and Harbour and Preston, Watt & Schoyer were large buyers.

Hall sold 500 shares United Copper on the advance to Masten & Co. and Sproul & Co.

On the exchange five shares Farmers Deposit National bank were offered at $1,400 a share, and $1,000 was bid for five shares. There have been no public sales of the stock since 1903, in which year 248 shares changed hands at prices ranging from $1,090 to $1,750.

National Fire Proofing preferred rallied to 30, a recovery of 2½ points from the recent low price. Offerings of the stock were light. The common recovered to 8. Some dissatisfaction is expressed with the circular issued this week relating to the bond issue by the Federal Clay Manufacturing Company, an underlying property. Stockholders are told that $2,500,000 bonds have been issued, but to whom is not stated. They are also informed that they will be given the privilege of subscribing for these bonds, but the rate of interest and the price are not stated.

At the close of the market 500 shares Golden Anchor were offered at 21 a share.

Officers of the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., have issued an invitation for an inspection of the improved bank building today from 1 to 5 o'clock.

The Pressed Steel Car Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable August 25 to stockholders of record at the close of business August 8. Transfer books will close August 8 and reopen August 29.

Gross earnings of Missouri Pacific for the third week in July increased $107,000. For the same week Southern Railway reports an increase of $66,416. Evidently the yellow fever in the south has not yet affected railroad traffic.

Net earnings of Hocking Valley for June increased $13,627.

The gross earnings of Chicago & Northwestern for June increased $680,000.

Eight railroads reporting gross earnings for the third week in July show an increase of 9.25 per cent.

Drawers of foreign exchange say that the travel abroad this year is beyond that of any other, and the amount of credits issued is correspondingly in proportion.

A $2,000,000 corporation has been organized by capitalists of Belleville, Ill., and St. Louis, for the acquisition of a number of coal properties in Illinois, all located on the line of the southern railway. The various mines have a total daily output of about 10,000 tons. Bonds will be sold covering the property.

Gross earnings of Canadian Pacific for the third week in July increased $85,000.

Gross earnings of Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh for the third week in July increased $40,000.

In the face of so much bearish gossip on National Biscuit stocks attention is called to the fact that that company has something over $1,000,000 loaned on call in Wall street.

A Chicago official of the American Can Company says that the decision reached by the directors to acquire additional capacity simply confirms the latest reports that business is exceeding all past records. The sales here in the west, which is known as the central district, were never so large as at present.

According to a director, Diamond Match Company's earnings for the first half of the fiscal year ended June 30 were far in excess of the same period in 1904, and the indications are that the last half of the year will show even greater gains. The present year will include revenue from the California timber lands.

The present insurance company deals in progress in Philadelphia will soon, it is expected, show some interesting developments. Charles Fearon & Co. are buying all the shares they can obtain of the American Fire and the Delaware Insurance Companies. Ellington & Hutchinson have purchased control of the Jefferson and are negotiating for a sale of it to other parties.

The quarterly report of United States Steel was favorably commented upon and was considered to make a strong showing. The lack of response in the Corporation's stocks was thought to be due possibly to the fact that some of the over-sanguine estimates of speculators had pointed to net earnings for the quarter of as much as $22,000,000 in place of the $20,350,116 actually reported. The decrease in the volume of unfilled orders on hand compared with the beginning of the previous quarter was considered moderate in view of the full tonnage to have occurred in the trade, and the belief is prevalent that there has been something like a rush of orders since the first of the month, which has probably increased the amount of unfilled orders to the maximum ever reported.

The demand for refined copper in the domestic market continues quite active and even a stronger tone is steadily developing. Both August and September deliveries are very difficult to obtain, and as high as 16.50 cash has been paid for March shipments. Those interested in the copper for October have been contracted for, with sales of the last two months at 16½ delivered. The tendency seems to be toward still higher prices. Lake copper continues to sell at the same price or possibly a little higher than electrolytic. Casting grades, however, are not wanted to the same extent as either lake or electrolytic, and are relatively weaker and still quoted at 14¾c cash for early shipment.

In New York money remains very easy, but foreign exchange rates rule and there is a supposition that some of the Panamme loan proceeds are being remitted abroad.

The establishment of the Erie second preferred on a 4 per cent dividend basis was according to the best expectations, but the declaration of the dividend for a full year at this time, with provision for payment in two installments, was a general surprise.

IRON AND STEEL PROSPECT GOOD

Prices Remain Firm With Good Inquiry on Former and Excellent Demand for Latter.

TUBES AND WIRE EXCEPTION

Buyers and sellers in the Bessemer and pig iron market are standing face to face awaiting a development. Inquiries for iron prices have been numerous all week, but buying has been limited. Still furnaces have not been anxious to sell at prices quoted. That there is and will be an excellent demand for iron cannot be disputed, because of the many inquiries, and while buyers are awaiting a drop before placing contracts, it is generally believed by iron men that the next move in the iron market will be upward and a rise in price is looked for within a week. Buying in the steel market remains active on all lines, with the possible exception of pipe, tubes, wire and nails. Prices are firm with last week, and while not many large new contracts are now being placed, billets are scarce and specifications are coming in rapidly on present contracts, which is looked upon as being the forerunner of new business. Structural shapes and rails cannot be procured any more this year on new contracts, while plates, and even bars, are enjoying excellent demand. The pipe and tube trade, though not active, is in better shape than last week, but unless fall business suddenly develops prices are likely to hold for a time. Coke remains steady, but indications are that the furnaces are not carrying any more surplus than necessary, and for this reason it is feared that if a slight car shortage develops, which at this time does not seem improbable, present quotations on coke will take sharp bounds.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business continues to move along in regular summer fashion, salesmen on the road sending in a good volume of business for lines in fall goods and fair volume for present wants. Owing to the extreme weather the demand for season goods continues very good, and good quantities of screen goods, lawn mowers, ice cream freezers, refrigerators and goods of like kind continue to move out. The bicycle business continues very good, the demand for sundries keeping up wonderfully well, and the demand for wheels carrying out a great many bicycles. Automobile sundries also continue to move in good quantities. The window glass market continues fairly active, the trade filling up with sizes in fear of not being able to get these sizes when stocks get lighter, as they are bound to with the continued shutdown of the factories. Prices in glass are very firm, and the prospects are for higher prices. A good movement continues in nails and wire and in other heavy hardware, prices on these lines being about stationary.

The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations: Columbia pocketknives, discount 20 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount, 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base No. 28, $2 35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, the ton, $27 00; window glass, first two brackets, single, 90 and 20 per cent off list of October 1, 1904; above second bracket and all double, 90 per cent off list for immediate acceptance only; Albion sewing machines, discount, 25 per cent; blue and white enamel ware, discount, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion hot plates, discount, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, discount, 40 per cent; hay forks, discount, 60 per cent.

MARKET FOR PIG IRON IS STEADY AND FIRM

In Structural Trade the Question of Deliveries Forms All-Absorbing Topic. Wire Stirs a Little.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say of the iron and metal trades: Apparently the buying in pig iron is over for the present, but the market is steady and firm after the rush of buying, instead of being weak and nominal, as it was before it. Relatively very little has been done in Bessemer pig in the valleys, and the hope has been expressed that the leading interest might enter the market. This is not likely for the next few months, and it should be observed also that a large outside steel company in the central west is carrying quite a stock of Bessemer pig.

A somewhat curious phenomenon is the appearance as buyers of steel mills of a number of large steel works, the tonnage wanted in the open market running close to 50,000 tons. The explanation may be that what is wanted is open hearth steel, of which the steel works in question make relatively small quantities.

In the structural trade the question of deliveries is the all-absorbing topic. During the past 10 days there has been some heavy selling of steel bars. It has been noted, however, that a somewhat unusual quantity of spring steel bars has been called for, thus reflecting the activity in the bar buying industry.

The wire trade is stirring a little. The usual time for the replenishing of requirements by the jobbing and other interests is August 15. The buying spell may set in as early as August 1 this year.

NEWS IS FAVORABLE ON EVERYTHING BUT SHEETS

Improved Labor Conditions, With Freedom from Strikes, Have Added to General Prosperity.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., July 26.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say:

Following the heavy sales of pig iron reported last week, favorable news comes from all parts of the country this week concerning not only pig iron, but also almost every kind of finished material, with exception of sheets, which are still weak. In some places improved labor conditions, with freedom from strikes, have added materially to prevailing prosperity. This is especially true in Colorado.

Rail orders placed with mills this year aggregate 1,700,000 tons, and inquiries for more than 600,000 tons are pending. The tonnage of unfilled orders of structural material now carried by the American Bridge Company is higher than at any time in its history, having passed 500,000.

The buying of pig iron, while not as heavy in the past week as in the few days preceding, has been of good size, especially in the east. Northern irons are firmer, and $14 is now the minimum for No. 2 foundry, but some furnaces are asking $14 50.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of five points on higher European cables and light receipts. At first trading was comparatively quiet, and the market showed little feature, but later there was a big demand from Wall street bulls and prices advanced sharply. There seemed to be no fresh news of consequence, but the continued light Brazilian movement seems to be attracting increased attention and the market ruled firm during the late session, closing steady at a net advance of 5@10 points. Sales were 153,250 bags, including July at 6.95c; August at 6.90c; September at 7.00@7.05c; November at 7.20c; December at 7.30@7.35c; January at 7.40@7.45c; March at 7.50@7.55c, and May at 7.55@7.60c. FLOUR MARKET SHAKY; SUGAR REMAINS SLOW

Green Goods and Produce Show Up Strong, While Eggs Hold High Price.

The wheat market had a better tone yesterday than for several days. Although it broke back ⅜ of a cent during the day, it closed at the opening price on September of 86¾c. This probably saved the flour market from a reduction, and no notice was received from the mills. It is more than likely the mill cut will have to be more than 10 cents before there will be any response in the local market. The mills advanced 10 cents on the first flurry, but the local markets remained at the former figures, consequently they have no cut to make now, unless the mill cut reaches 15 or more points.

Sugar is in the same dull condition it has been. There is no speculative buying among retail dealers, most of them preferring to play safe than to assuming risks of a drop with a heavy stock of sugar on hand. The result is that only enough sugar is being sold to supply the imperative demand, which is not a good augury for advances. The heaviest of the fruit season will be in now in another month, and buying will probably be stimulated before that some, but in the meantime it will be definitely settled what the raw and beet sugar crops will amount to, and the market will no doubt be well settled.

Produce, fruit and green goods showed but few changes yesterday. Trade continues good. There is a heavy demand for fresh select eggs and they are firm at the prices. Butter is also firm.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 23½ cars oats, 17½ cars hay, 2½ cars feed; Ohio, straw, 1 car corn, Baltimore & Ohio, 4 cars oats, 2 cars hay. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars oats.

The straw market is steadily growing weaker and rye is lower now than it has been for over a year. Wheat and oat are also down. Hay is holding its own well, and there were no changes yesterday in grain. Business continues dull.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The directors of the Victoria Mining Company have levied an assessment of $1 a share, payable August 28.

The new Century Zinc and Lead Mining Company of Galena, Kan., has declared its fifty-second regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent, payable August 1.

A dispatch from Butte, Mont., says: The decision of supreme court in the Nipper case, reversing district court at Butte, almost wrests from back the rich Nipper mine. The decision, which contains evidence excluded by Judge Clancy, and by which the Anaconda and Washoe attorneys sought to prove that the vein of the Nipper was really the same blue vein which runs diagonally across the Nipper claim and that the latter has therefore no extra lateral rights. It is claimed that this contention was upheld by Judge Hunt of the United States court in his recent decision in a similar suit against the Parrot company. The supreme court was not unanimous in its decision reversing the case. It is not at all likely that new trial will be granted, and the Nipper case will come up to trial again very soon, probably not in a year or two.

There is no truth in the rumor that United States Mining Company has been turned over to another company. The rumor probably arose from the report that there may be a change in the name to the United States Smelting and Refining Company, but this has not been definitely determined yet.

Statistics of ore production in the Boundary district of British Columbia give the output of ore for the first six months at 673,000 tons, of a value of about $3,500,000. The June output was reduced by the shutting down of the Montreal and Boston smelter, the month's output amounting to but 92,238 tons, or less than 4,000 tons a day, as compared with twenty times that. It is said that as a result of the Phoenix-Dodge interests securing control of the Deadwood coal fields and making a new contract with the Greene Consolidated Copper Company for fuel, the latter company will effect a saving of $100,000 per annum in its coke and coal consumption. The Old Dominion Company will likewise derive great benefits.

NORTH SIDE SITE BRINGS $100,000

Sampson Property in Sixth Ward Is Bought for Manufacturing Purposes.

A deal full of significance for lower Allegheny is the sale of the Letitia J. Sampson property in the Sixth ward, which was reported yesterday. Aside from the fact that the total amount involved in the purchase is about $100,000, the property is one of the very best manufacturing sites on the Ohio river within the city limits. A report was current yesterday that the purchaser was an independent brewing combine, but this could not be confirmed, as the Mutual Union Brewing Company, the only independent concern of the kind that is known to be in the market for such a site, has bought a property at Aliquippa.

The Sampson property lies between Franklin and Locust streets and extends back from the low water line on the Ohio river across the Pittsburgh & Western railroad to Lecky alley. It measures about 300x279 feet and includes 74,632 square feet. As the price quoted is $75,000, this is at the rate of about $1 09 a square foot. An old brick house and some smaller buildings stand near the center of the lot, which has been used for a coal yard. At the northwest corner of Locust street and Lecky alley, adjoining this property, are two 10-room brick houses on lots 34x168 feet each, which were owned by James Tibney and A. L. D. Miller. These are said to have been acquired by the same purchasers for nearly $25,000, the high price being asked because of the fact that the buyers had to have the property to even up their holdings.

The site thus acquired has exceptional advantages for manufacturing purposes. It is above high water mark and still has the advantage of a long frontage on the Ohio river which could be used with great success in shipping and holdings. The Pittsburgh & Western railroad runs through the property, affording good switching facilities, and on the other side of the lot, a half square east, is the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad. It is pretty certain that the property has been bought for a manufacturing site of some kind and whether for a brewery or not, the deal will mean the erection of a big plant, no doubt.

Good Activity in East End.

The East End came in for a good share of the deals reported yesterday, all the purchases being of residence properties. Dr. J. M. Foot has bought from the Charles Meyran estate a fine residence at the southeast corner of Shady avenue and Howe street, Twentieth ward, for about $30,000. The house contains 14 rooms and stands on 84x204 feet. It is less than a square from the former Hailman property, on which the Calvary Protestant Episcopal congregation is preparing to erect a costly church. The deal is said to have been in the nature of an exchange in which a dwelling and cash was given as part payment.

Two Nineteenth ward sales were negotiated by the firm of Baldridge, Watson & Co., and with other developments in that vicinity lately give promise of a very active boom in residence lots there this fall. To James B. Graham they sold four lots on Henry Kaufmann 80x150 feet, on the east side of Sheridan avenue, north of Wellesley avenue, for $12,600. The buyer will improve the site at once with three brick houses to cost $5,000 each. To Robert Philpot they also sold 51x100 feet of the Kaufmann frontage facing on the north side of Wellesley avenue, near Sheridan avenue, for $4,000. This lot will also be improved with an $8,000 brick house. The property which the same firm sold to Jonas R. McClintock last year and which faces in Heberton avenue, is now being divided and two good reception hall residences are being built. Scott Greaves has also recently completed a $15,000 residence in Sheridan avenue, opposite the Kaufmann frontage, and E. M. West a short time ago completed his $50,000 English house on a lot at the corner of Wellesley and Sheridan avenues, which the same firm sold to him.

Buys Hazelwood Houses.

F. F. Nicols has sold to an Oakland investor eight brick houses in Winterburn street, near Hoosac street, Twenty-third ward, for $30,000. The houses contain six rooms and bath each and are built on lots 20x100 feet. They are rented for $20 a month and will be held for an investment.

Through the Elderkin-Stanton Company the Thelma apartment house at 7611-7613 Bennett street, Thirty-seventh ward, has been sold for about $18,000. The property belonged to John A. Kuner and E. M. C. Hulburd, and consists of a three-story brick building containing six apartments of five rooms and bath each, standing on 40x139 feet. The property was bought for an investment and is the second sale of apartment houses made by these agents within a week for cash.

It is reported that a local real estate firm has an option on the H. H. Myers property on Oliver avenue, and that unless the property is sold within two weeks it will be taken off the market. This is in accord with Mr. Myers' statement, published in The Gazette two days ago, to the effect that the property could be bought now if the right sum were offered, but that unless it was sold architects would be employed to remodel the old packing house as soon as he got his stock out of it, make a new front in Oliver avenue and add four more stories to the building. The option, it is said, is for $500,000, and the buyers must pay the benefits assessed for the widening of Oliver avenue.

Despite the fact that comparatively few large sales are coming out nowadays, the list of small sales is growing steadily this week. Houses are selling better than at any time since June 1, and by the end of the week, according to present prospects, the list of such properties, ranging in value from $2,000 to $10,000, that will have changed hands will be an unusually large one.

WILL THE B. & O. BE INDEPENDENT?

Pennsylvania May Not Allow Proposed Change of Ohio River Division Service.

WABASH HAS FAST FREIGHT

It was learned last evening from a direct source that a test case will be made of the proposed change of the Baltimore & Ohio passenger train service from the Ohio river division at Wheeling into Pittsburgh over the Wheeling and Pittsburgh branch of the Baltimore & Ohio instead of over the Panhandle as at present. It was said that the case will probably be brought to a test tomorrow or Saturday and that the change is by no means assured because the Baltimore & Ohio has worked out a schedule. Officers of the Pennsylvania lines refuse to discuss it and General Superintendent Robert Pitney and Superintendent R. W. Duer of the Baltimore & Ohio are out of the city.

The trouble, as in all past attempts of the Baltimore & Ohio to secure this service for its own line, is said to arise directly from the agreement made between the Pennsylvania lines west and the Ohio River Railroad Company about a decade ago. This agreement is said to hold now in a way that, if the Pennsylvania lines want to press their claim, the proposed change can be set at naught again.

The situation thus becomes an interesting one, particularly inasmuch as the action of the Baltimore & Ohio will be a decisive step for that company. Ever since the rehabilitation of the Baltimore & Ohio, and especially since Oscar G. Murray became president and surrounded himself with some of the most able railroad men in the country to handle the Baltimore & Ohio's affairs, there have been occasions when slight steps for a more independent stand have been taken without causing a remonstrance from the Pennsylvania. Outside interests claim that the Baltimore & Ohio has a perfect right to assert its independence and to take the present step in that direction.

Work Toward Elevation Progressing.

The work toward the elevation of the Pennsylvania lines west tracks in Cleveland to eliminate the grade crossings will be under way within two weeks. Robert Trimble, chief engineer maintenance of way of the Northwest system, spent Tuesday in Cleveland looking into the situation and then went on to Chicago for a conference with the engineers in charge of the elevation work in that city. In addition to this work on the northwest system, the southwest system is entering into the situation in Ohio. W. C. Cushing, chief engineer maintenance of way of the southwest system, said that as soon as the plans have been approved by the city officials at Cincinnati and the property has been secured for the change of grade through that city, the work will be begun. Ordinances have also been passed by the councils at Dayton, O., and unless the city official machinery moves very slowly it is expected that all of the roads entering that city will be required to build elevated lines to eliminate grade crossings of a dangerous nature. The new Union station at Dayton was built with a view to allowing for elevation of the tracks there. The Ohio laws allow the railroads to construct elevated lines and require the municipality in each case to bear half of the expense of the work.

Wabash Fast Freight Service.

The Wabash system's lines east of Toledo have established a fast freight service from Pittsburgh to Ohio and western cities and a good amount of freight is being handled daily by the system out of Pittsburgh. The Wabash has a single night service from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, Zanesville and Cleveland, while the freight also reaches Toledo early the day following its being sent from this city. The service reaches Chicago 26 hours after leaving Pittsburgh and St. Louis 60 hours after being sent from here. Every effort is being made by the Wabash management to afford the shippers the best possible facilities for through or local shipments.

General Manager Maher Here.

N. D. Maher, general manager of the Norfolk & Western railway, of Roanoke, Va., is spending a couple of days here in conference with Pennsylvania system officers upon matters of interest to both roads. He will leave this evening for Washington. Mr. Maher says that the road's operations are in excellent condition and that the outlook for fall traffic is good. Figures of the coal tonnage from the Pocahontas district over the Norfolk & Western for the year closed with June 30, 1905, show an increase of 18.4 per cent over the tonnage handled on the lines in 1904. There were 9,653,-027 tons handled in 1904-5, as against 8,155,300 tons in 1903-4, giving an increase of practically 1,500,000 tons.

Bring "Ed" Norton's Body Home.

E. D. Smith, former assistant general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio here, will leave for Kansas City this evening to meet Mrs. Edward M. Norton, who has started home with the remains of her husband, Edward M. Norton, formerly connected with the Pennsylvania lines west. Mr. Norton died at Tucson, Ariz., last Saturday, and Mrs. Norton started eastward as soon as she could arrange Mr. Norton's affairs there. It is expected that Mrs. Norton and Mr. Smith will arrive here with the remains Saturday evening, and that the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon. Mr. Smith's wife was a sister of Mr. Norton.

Telephone Line Completed.

The New York Central has just completed the telephone line in connection with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad into Pittsburgh from Youngstown. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern has had the telephone service on all its main lines for about six months. It is now possible for a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie officer to confer almost instantly with officers of other roads of the New York Central lines at Chicago, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo or New York. In addition to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie direct connection, the line has also been placed into the office of Commercial Agent D. F. Hurd of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, and the Lake Erie & Western railroad in the Park building.

Booking Telegraphers Here.

It is learned that telegraph operators are being hired in Pittsburgh to be in waiting in case a strike is called of the telegraph operators on the Northern Pacific railway by the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers. The contention seems to be a general demand for a minimum wage of $75 a month, which the railway company has refused to grant. At other eastern cities men are also being hired and retained at $2 a day.

Railroad Notes.

Pennsylvania lines officers know nothing of the report that the new Scully yards are to be enlarged.

Charles H. Hoffman, chief clerk in the Rock Island-'Frisco offices, is enjoying his vacation in the mountains.

J. B. Yohe, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has returned from a jaunt at the seashore.

The earnings of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway for the second week of July showed an increase of $40,697.

W. E. Zirckel, the new traveling passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton here, is making the first tour of his territory this week.

Thomas D. Parrack, agent of the Atlantic Coast Despatch, has returned from a trip over the lines upon which the Despatch operates.

J. A. Murdock, commercial agent of the Seaboard Despatch, is reported improving in health, but still unable to leave the hospital.

Paul Dither, district engineer of the Baltimore & Ohio, is in Baltimore today conferring with the engineering officials regarding work in this district.

O. M. Ellsworth will become general agent of the Rock Island and 'Frisco systems here August 1, according to an official circular announcing the appointment.

Col. Thomas E. Watt, passenger agent of the western district of the Pennsylvania, estimates that about 1,500 persons will go to Atlantic City on the road's excursion today.

S. S. Bridgers, commercial agent of the Norfolk & Western, has returned from a vacation jaunt in West Virginia. H. E. Holverstott began service with this road as traveling freight agent last Monday.

Among out-of-town traffic men in the city were District Passenger Agent Frank Bowman of the Chicago & Alton at Philadelphia and Traveling Passenger Agent Clifford L. Sprague of the D. & C. line at Cincinnati.

Passenger Traffic Manager E. A. Ford and General Passenger Agent Samuel Moody of the Pennsylvania lines west will visit some of the principal western offices of the company before returning from the family meeting at Petoskey.

William T. Pratt, general eastern agent of the Wisconsin Central railway, and James A. Clock, Pacific coast agent, were here calling upon Thomas B. Montgomery, general agent of the company in this district, and also visiting other traffic men. They are making a tour of the company's traffic offices.

A meeting of the Pittsburgh & Western Railroad Company's directors was held in the office of Robert Finney, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio. Routine matters were discussed. Those at the meeting were Vice President W. M. Kennedy, Secretary C. W. Woolford and Directors Robert Finney, W. C. Loree and Johns McCleave.

DAUPHIN COURTS GET MANDAMUS

Attorney R. H. Jackson Is Preparing Petition n Assessors Act.

JUDGES WILL FILE ANSWER

The entire plan with reference to mandamus proceedings against the nine common pleas court judges to compel them to appoint a board of tax revision for Allegheny county has been changed, and Attorney R. H. Jackson is working on a petition for a writ of mandamus which will be filed in the Dauphin county courts instead of with the supreme court judges. This was the one serious question with Attorney General Carson, and he finally decided in favor of the Dauphin county court.

It was at first thought feasible to take the matter into the supreme court at once, so that a final decision on the Woods act could be obtained and taxes assessed and collected properly in Allegheny county. The debate on this question and method of procedure held up the question until yesterday, when the county commissioners learned that the Dauphin county courts would be the first body to hear and review the entire question.

Just when he will file his petition Attorney Jackson cannot state, but as soon as it is filed, the Dauphin county court will issue the mandamus on the local judges to show cause why they do not appoint the board. Their answer, it is said, will be interesting, although just what objections they will have outside the constitutionality of the law is known to few besides the judges. They have a number of other reasons, however, which are said to be good ones, although these may not be pressed.

With the protests of clergymen on the uniformity of the occupation tax, and the action of assessors in refusing to work unless they are assured they will receive their pay, the commissioners are anxious to see the question settled one way or the other. If the Woods act is unconstitutional they want it finally passed upon. The question is regarded as such a serious one that it may yet become a matter as to whether or not the county can collect taxes next January unless the board is appointed or the law finally killed.

After the answer of the local judges is filed in the Dauphin courts, and it is said they are not all of the opinion the law is unconstitutional, the question of the legality of the act will then be argued. If the court decides the act is constitutional, and the judges appeal to the supreme court, it may still tie the settlement of the question up until after next January. All those connected with the matter hope speedy action can be secured at Harrisburg, and that similar action may be had in the supreme court, as an appeal is inevitable, it is said, under any decision.

HARRISBURG, July 26.—(Special.)—Attorney General Carson declines to be a party to the proposed proceedings to compel the Allegheny county judges to appoint a board of tax assessment and revision for that county. Deputy Attorney General Fleitz said today that if it should appear that the only way in which the constitutionality of this act could be determined in proceedings through the attorney general's department, then Mr. Carson would not hesitate to take such action, but under present conditions the department would take no part in the controversy.

MARRON RAISES A POINT.

Holds That Police Court Cannot Try Riot Cases.

The Greeks who were arrested Tuesday night, charged with having started a riot in Fourth avenue, were called for a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Moke. After Assistant City Solicitor L. S. Levin presented the evidence for the prosecution, Attorney John Marron, who appeared for the Greeks, said the prisoners were charged with riot and the case was one for the county courts and outside of the jurisdiction of the police court.

Assistant City Solicitor Levin may change the charge to disorderly conduct and have the cases disposed of this morning at the regular hearing. The prisoners are out on bail.

Pleasantville Terrace

Is Making Money for People All Over the World

Thoughtful, conservative people everywhere, in every walk of life, are investing their savings in Pleasantville Terrace.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE MANY EXCELLENT REASONS

Pleasantville Terrace lies on both sides of the main line of the Atlantic City Railroad (Reading system), 11 minutes from Boardwalk. All trains stop there, except express. See Atlantic City time table, Reading R. R.

Early investors have already nearly doubled their money. Pleasantville Terrace is 55 feet higher than Atlantic City. No swamps. No malaria.

Atlantic City real estate values have grown enormously. The entire island was originally sold for less than $20 an acre—now its real estate valuation runs considerably over $92,000,000.

A lot 50x100, that cost $100, was sold a few months ago for $50,000. A property bought five years ago for $6,000 was sold a few days ago for $15,000. But Atlantic City has practically outgrown the boundaries of the island on which it stands. It must expand inland.

Franklin P. Stoy, Mayor of Atlantic City, says: "I regard Pleasantville Terrace as the natural suburb of Atlantic City."

We anticipated this several years ago by purchasing the General Doughty estate and laid out Pleasantville Terrace. If we had to buy this land now we would have to charge many times present prices.

Just think of it—a building lot 25x100 feet, 11 minutes from the Boardwalk, for prices and terms like this:

1 lot, $30—$1 cash, $1 weekly.
2 lots, $50—$2 cash, $1 weekly.
3 lots, $80—$3 cash, $2 weekly.
4 lots, $100—$4 cash, $2 weekly.
5 lots, $130—$5 cash, $2 weekly.

We definitely guarantee early increase in values and insure successful development of Pleasantville Terrace by offering special premiums to those who will build.

Thousands of dollars have already been spent in improvements.

Title is guaranteed. No mortgages. No taxes until 1906. No charge for deed. If you die before lot is paid, we issue deed to your heirs, without further payments.

Whether you want to buy for a home near the country's greatest playground, or for investment, by all means investigate this proposition. Call or write for free descriptive booklet to main office, address below.

Next time you are in Atlantic City you can investigate the property. We run free excursions at frequent intervals, from Atlantic City to enable lot owners to see improvements.
